CANADIAN ARMEN HELP BATTLE FLOODS — In the desolation caused by the ruinous floods in Eastern England, airmen from the RCAF's No. 1 Fighter Wing at North Luffenham did yeoman work in rescuing house-holders and their belongings from the ravages of the sea. They also filled and carried heavy sandbags to fill the great gaps in the sea dykes. A gang of airmen are seen at work filling bags and loading them in an RCAF truck at Great Yarmouth for transport to the damaged dykes. (National Defence Photo)

Many Appeal Government Ruling

Cattlemen, Lumbermen Protest New Assessment

An Avenue Has More Dignity Than A Road?

Whether Carmi road should be renamed Carmi avenue may be the subject of a "war" of attrition between Alderman J. C. Harris and the Penticton School Board.

Recently the school board asked that the name should be changed and Alderman Harris objected. It has been known as Carmi road for years and it leads to Carmi, he objected.

This week the school board claimed that the word avenue is more befitting the dignity of Penticton than the word road. "Why not call the thoroughfare an avenue from Main street to Government street and Carmi road from there on?" Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh suggested. "That would keep everybody happy."

"Could the government be persuaded to designate it as an avenue?" Mayor W. A. Rathbun asked.

"I'd be happy enough if the school board could persuade me that it should be changed," Alderman Harris commented. "It would be more dignified as an avenue," Alderman H. M. Geddes said.

"You hear of the road to heaven, never the avenue," Mayor Rathbun declared.

"That's because it's a rough road," smiled Alderman W. D. Haddleton.

The matter was tabled.

Classification of all provincially taxed land as timber land for taxation purposes and the decision to assess second growth timber has caused a storm of protest to be raised in this and other areas.

N. E. Baker New Hudson's Bay Manager

Arriving in Penticton this week was N. E. Baker, new manager of the local branch of the Hudson's Bay Company.

Mr. Baker, who comes here from Flin Flon, Manitoba, replaces N. J. Maloney as manager of the local store. Mr. Maloney has been transferred to the Hudson's Bay branch in Kimberley.

Mr. Baker joined the Hudson's Bay Company in 1947 as a buyer with the company's retail store in Winnipeg. From there he went to Flin Flon where he was assistant store manager.

Previous to joining the company, Mr. Baker had a distinguished service career overseas with the Cameron Highlanders and then served with the army in several high ranking positions during the demobilization.

Mr. Baker is interested in service club and community work and is an ardent sportsman, his particular interests being hunting, fishing and golf.

Mr. Baker will be joined in Penticton in a few weeks' time by his wife and his four-year-old daughter, Carole.

The changes in the assessment system and the resultant threat of increased taxation were vigorously protested last week in Penticton when nearly 200 appeals against assessment were submitted by ranchers, lumber men and other land owners in the Princeton and Kettle River assessment districts to W. B. Carter, a one man court of revision.

Mr. Carter, hearing the appeals, requested that written arguments should be submitted and he promised that a decision would be handed down on February 28.

Prior to the 1953 assessment, land east of the Cascade Mountains was classed as timber land only if the timber capacity was 5,000 board feet per acre. This exempted farm and pasture land upon which stood only sufficient timber to provide shade for cattle.

Also prior to this year's assessment timber was assessed at its marketable value, but under the new system the potential value of young trees is being assessed. Lumbermen claim that such an assessment is unfair, chiefly because trees may be destroyed before they reach maturity; the values may be diminished by reason of infestation or that, because of changes in the economy, the lumber may be measured by a different standard of values in years to come.

Lumbermen claim that other taxes are based on past incomes or values and that the new system of assessment means a tax on the future.

Now that all land is classed as timber land and is to be taxed as such, cattlemen find that trees which in the past have had value only as shade trees for stock, or for their function as watershed timber, are now, for taxation purposes, classed as merchantable timber and will be taxed as such, regardless of the use, if any, to which the timber will be put. The timber tax will be levied in addition to the tax on farm land and farm buildings and improvements.

In authorizing the new method of assessment the government maintains that the fact that timber stands on the land gives that land an increased value.

One example of the increased assessment is that of a 248 acre parcel of farm land now under consideration.

In 1952 the land was assessed at $600. In 1953 the value had been increased to $5,200, the land being valued at $248 and the timber at $4,952.

P. D. O'Brien represented the Crown, with H. W. McInnes, Q.C., J. S. Atkins and David Pugh of Oliver, representing the appellants.

Finance Minister Announces "Pay As You Go" Policy

Largest Public Works Program In B.C.'s History Announced In Social Crediters' First Budget

Reduce Car Licenses Ten Percent In 1954

In the budget address to the Legislature, delivered this afternoon, Finance Minister E. M. Gunderson announced a complete "pay-as-you-go" policy, with current funds providing all administration costs, as well as the largest public works program on capital account that the province has ever had.

Administrative costs have been pared without impairing efficiency; the right and responsibility of appropriating funds has been restored fully to the legislature; and the financial position of the province was clearly outlined in every respect, the finance minister said.

Retain Special Economic Expert

After reviewing the accounts for the year ended on March 31, 1952, Mr. Gunderson discussed the current financial position of the government.

Since February 14, 1952, the gross debt of the province had been reduced by $10,206,000 to $258,835,000 while the net debt had been reduced by no less than $21,381,000 to $189,711,000 on December 31, 1952. On a per capita basis the reduction in the net debt was from $164 to $142, or $22 per capita.

Insofar as debt redemption provisions were concerned, it was announced that, at no time in the history of the province, had the sinking funds met requirements in as full and adequate a manner.

While reviewing the federal-provincial fiscal relations, the minister disclosed that an increase of $2,245,000 was anticipated during the next fiscal year under the terms of the tax agreement, bringing the total to $42,340,000.

He announced also, that Dr. H. C. Goldenberg, OBE, QC, had been retained as special economic consultant in connection with economic its natural resources.

Improvements to the provincial tax system and a more equitable distribution of the tax burden were announced.

The exemption from the three percent sales tax on restaurant meals is to be raised from 50 cents to $1, and further exemptions on agricultural irrigation equipment will be provided.

Passenger car licence fees are to be reduced by 10 percent in 1954. Being convinced that those who use directly for profit, the often irreplaceable natural resources of the province, do not make a sufficient compensatory contribution towards the protection and conservation of natural resources, or towards the cost of government, the minister announced a tax of one percent on the assessed value of timber lands now held — frequently for speculative gain — under leases or licences for lumbering or pulp purposes.

Taking advantage of the permissible clause in the federal-provincial tax agreement which provides that a provincial income tax on primary logging and mining operations would be allowed as an expense in computing federal income taxes, the minister announced a 10 percent tax on the net profit from logging operations in excess of $20,000, and a similar tax on basic mining problems of major concern to both Canada and British Columbia, regarding the development of the province, and the conservation of operations, the latter to replace the existing four percent tax, where an exemption of $5,000 is allowed on gross profit. Mr. Gunderson was satisfied that the $25,000 exemption would amply protect small operations in the early stages of development, and marginal producers.

Coming to the budgetary provisions for the fiscal year beginning on April 1, 1953, the minister first brought to the attention of the house the fact that revenue surpluses of $28,077,000 which were available on March 31, 1952, had been appropriated by the former legislature to the extent of $15,500,000, and that the late government had applied a further $10,925,000 for the redemption of treasury bills sold to the bank. This had left a balance unappropriated of $1,652,000.

The estimate of revenue for the fiscal year 1953-54 was placed at $167,055,000 which, together with estimated unappropriated surpluses as at April 1 of this year, would make available a total of $182,389,000 with which to provide current expenditures during 1953-54, amounting to $143,498,000 and $31,385,000 for capital works or projects. A surplus of $7,506,000 was, therefore, (Continued on Page 7)

Plan Colorful Plaque Dedication, Jamboree

Arrangements for the dedication of the arena Memorial Plaque and the presentation of the Penticton Minor Hockey Association's annual jamboree on Friday, February 27, are progressing rapidly and a colorful program is being lined up by the Canadian Legion and minor puck committees in charge of the affair.

The financial end of the jamboree and dedication was clarified at City Council meeting, Monday. According to a report presented by Alderman Wilson Hunt, it was decided at a meeting of the Legion, Minor Hockey Association and Alderman Hunt that no charge would be made for the dedication, but that after the dedication ceremony an announcement of a collection would be made.

Council will absorb the cost of the dedication and no charge will be made for the use of the arena. The city will pay up to $100 for expenses and all the proceeds of the collection will be turned over to the minor hockey group.

The dedication of the Memorial Plaque will be made on a platform set up in the centre of the ice and civic dignitaries, representatives of the service clubs and civic organizations will participate in the solemn ceremonies. The plaque will be borne to the stage by a military honor guard.

A march past will precede the ceremony with all the various groups within the minor puck organization taking part.

Heading the march, in which two bands will participate, will be a service color party. This will be followed by the hundreds of city children, who play hockey in the various minor puck leagues, from the pre-school age Pouch Buds up through the age divisions of pre-bantams, bantams, midgets and juveniles to the representatives of the commercial and senior hockey leagues and the figure skating club.

All these groups, attired in their hockey uniforms and accompanied by their coaches, will form up in designated parts of the ice surface and form a colorful setting for the dedication ceremony.

Following the ceremony the minor puck association will present an entertaining program which will include abbreviated Pouch Buds, bantam and midget hockey games, comedy acts, races, figure skating numbers and an oldtime hockey game.

Skaha Lake Store Owner Robbed At Gun Point; Bandit Takes $60

A gun which "got bigger by the second" was used to threaten the proprietor of the Skaha Lake Store who was robbed of $60 by a masked bandit about 8 p.m. Saturday.

Joseph J. Koenig was in the living quarters of the store when he heard the door open. He entered the store and saw a man behind the counter.

"Hand it over," demanded the intruder, pointing the gun at Mr. Koenig.

"I took the small bills out of the cash drawer and handed it over," Mr. Koenig told the Herald. "Then he asked me for my wallet which I held out to him. He took the bills and rushed out."

Mr. Koenig declared. "His face was covered by a silk stocking. He was about six feet tall and the gun in his hand seemed to get bigger by the second. According to reports the man, after leaving the store, got into a car which was parked nearby and drove away without switching on his headlights until another car approached."

A second robbery was carried out in Penticton this week when, on Monday, the Kelly Douglas warehouse was entered and a cheque writing protograph was stolen. Thieves entered through a skylight. As far as can be ascertained the machine was the only article stolen.

Estimates Up $34,000

District School Costs Increase

Cost of operating Penticton schools in 1953 has increased by $34,000 over last year's cost, according to the school board estimates presented to City Council this week. The budget was tabled for study.

Of the increase the city taxpayer will be asked to provide $30,000 and the district taxpayer about $4,000. The amount of the budget for which the school board is responsible is divided between the city and the district in a ratio of 88.97 percent and 11.03 percent respectively — the district's share is about one-eighth of that of the city.

Last year the school board asked the city for $294,113 compared with $328,196 this year. Total budget for operating schools this year is $538,211.

Of the $34,000 increase $12,400 is the four and a half percent increase awarded to teachers by the arbitration board recently; about $14,000 goes in teachers' salary increases and other salary increases and also takes into account the employment of four new teachers in September, which will be necessary, school board officials state.

Another $3,000 will be necessary to operate the high school auditorium and gymnasium for a full year. Last year the buildings were only open for a few months.

At the council meeting Monday W. W. Riddell, school board chairman, presented the estimates, told council that the board is planning to build office quarters out of the by-law fund and the capital expenditure reserve. The new offices would provide accommodation for the secretary and the building supervisor, as well as providing accommodation for board meetings. Cost is estimated at $17,000.

Harris Favors Abolition Of Road, Poll Tax

Penticton Jaycees' reiteration of their stand against the levying of road and poll taxes received the support of Alderman J. C. Harris at this week's council meeting and council referred the question of the taxes to the finance committee for a report.

Discussion of the Jaycees' letter disclosed that the road tax produces about $2,200 annually and the poll tax about $3,200. Cost of collection is approximately $500.

In the letter the Junior Chamber declared that "the time has come to abolish the taxes. Other enlightened cities in B.C. have abolished the taxes," the letter stated.

Festival Grant Plea Is Referred To Budget

City Council's reception of the Peach Festival Association's request for financial assistance for the 1953 show has left festival officials hopeful that a grant will be forthcoming this year.

At Monday's meeting three aldermen indicated their approval of a festival grant and after discussion the matter was referred to estimates.

In the letter the association explained that in the past two years the festival budget has been balanced, but it was not possible to pay off any of the money owing to the bank. "Financial aid is necessary if the festival association is to carry on," the letter stated.

"If we are expected to make a grant, we should know how the money is to be spent," Alderman J. C. Harris commented. "If the festival drew up a tentative budget it would be in a better position to ask for help."

"I think it should receive consideration in estimates," Alderman W. D. Haddleton declared. "I think this is the most deserving association in the city. If it came to a choice between the BEG fund and the festival I would say the festival. It brings people into the city and also advertises Penticton. If any grant is to be given I think we should support the festival."

Alderman F. C. Christian concurred with Alderman Haddleton's remarks. "The peach festival is our number one festival," he said. (Continued on Page 7.)

H. A. Nicholson To Head City Rotary Club

H. A. "Bill" Nicholson will be the president of the Penticton Rotary Club for the 1953-54 period.

This was revealed at Monday's meeting of the club when nominations were filed.

The election proper will not take place until March 23, and the installation will not be until mid-summer. But the fact that Mr. Nicholson was unopposed in the nominations, as made this week, forecasts his election.

He has been a popular vice-president of the organization during the current term and, on stepping up, will succeed A. D. C. Washington, the present leader.

Also to be elected by acclamation will be Norman Trough, as the new vice-president, and C. W. Lintott, as secretary-treasurer. There will be balloting in March for four executive members, those nominated this week being Alan S. Bella, A. K. Bent, Frank Bowfield, T. W. Bryant, George Carter, William Guernard, and Dr. Fred Parmley.

Party Line Ringing Codes Change Here

In an effort to simplify the party line ringing codes on multi-party lines in its Penticton automatic exchange, the telephone company will, at midnight on Saturday, carry out certain equipment changes to improve this service.

Following a thorough investigation of subscribers' complaints regarding certain code rings, the company will modify one of its multi-party line ringing codes from the present LONG-SHORT-LONG to one LONG ring. The subscribers will, however, still continue to hear a single SHORT ring when a call is made to another subscriber on the same party line.

All subscribers concerned have received notification by mail from the telephone company respecting this change of ringing code. The company feels that "considerable benefit will be derived by eliminating the annoyance to other multi-party subscribers caused by the intermittent LONG-SHORT-LONG ringing."

A chimney fire at a Brunswick street residence was extinguished by the Penticton Fire Department on Monday at 2:25 p.m.

Penticton's arena manager will be permitted to park in metered zones free of charge while he is engaged in city business, council agreed this week.

Teachers Claim Valley Minimum Salary Too Low

Concern over the low minimum in the Okanagan Valley teachers' salary schedule was expressed in a release following a meeting of the executive and salary committees of the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association in Kelowna on Saturday. The salary committee of the OVTA expressed gratification at the recent arbitration award which gave the teachers a four and a half percent salary increase, but pointed out that the OVTA salary schedule has the lowest minimum in the province.

This, the committee contended, together with the half increments in the salaries in the first two years of teaching, is detrimental to teaching in the Okanagan as many teachers will not accept appointments here. John Insart, of Armstrong, president of OVTA, was elected to succeed C. Wilkin, of Summerland, as OVTA geographical representative in the coming school year.

Reg Cox, of Penticton, was chosen delegate to the B.C. Teachers' Federation workshop which will be held at Qualicum this summer.

Over $2,000 Donated To City Flood Fund

Generosity of Penticton residents has manifested itself in the $2,228.26 which has been donated to the Overseas Flood Aid Fund during the past two weeks. "We are more than satisfied with the results of the campaign," J. W. Johnson, chairman of the fund committee, told the Herald today.

Organization For Concert Series To Be Formed Tonight

Representatives of city organizations will meet tonight in the Anglican Parish Hall at 8 p.m. to organize a South Okanagan Community Concert Series. Everyone interested is urged to attend. The series of four concerts by international artists will be financed by $6 memberships which will be sold next fall if sufficient persons prove to be interested.

Persons purchasing memberships will be asked to state the type of entertainment they prefer and the wishes of the majority will be followed as closely as possible. The artists will be obtained through Mrs. Tjga Williams, field organizer for the San Francisco Columbia Concert Association.

Accounts for payment totalling $120,397.13 were approved by City Council this week.

The regular meeting of the Gyrette Club was held on February 19 at the home of Mrs. Len Hill with Mrs. H. N. LeRoy, vice-president in the chair. Twenty-three members were present.

Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Barney Bent, Mrs. S. Thompson, Mrs. D. McFarland and Mrs. Juan Puddy.

The next meeting of the Gyrettes will be the installation of officers at a dinner meeting on the Sca-mous on March 5 at 6 p.m.

Local Interest Centred In Finlay - Griffith Nuptial Rites At Coast Ceremony

Local and coast interest was centred in the Valentine's Day double ring wedding ceremony of Hazel Yvonne Griffith, of Vancouver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewis Griffith of Quesnel, and Douglas McNeil Finlay, of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McNeil Finlay of Penicton.

The pretty wedding took place in Vancouver at 7 p.m. on February 14 in St. James Anglican Church which was decorated with white calla lilies on either side of the altar. Rev. T. D. Somerville officiated.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, walked down the aisle to the wedding strains played by organist Leonard Wilson in a beautiful gown of taffeta and lace featuring a large bodice, lily point sleeves and a graceful overskirt of appliqued lace which cascaded into a full train. A simple coronet of twisted taffeta and pearls caught her mist of illusion net veiling and she carried a sheaf of white calla lilies. The bride's only jewelry was a heirloom pearl necklace given her on the eve of the wedding by the groom's mother.

The bridal attendants were all attired in rich Coronation blue taffeta creations. Mrs. K. A. Eldridge, of Vancouver, matron-of-honor, wore her gown topped with a dainty collar and Spencer and a pert coque feather spray complemented the ensemble. She carried a bouquet of pale pink Virginia carnations in the Valentine motif.

The bridesmaids, Miss Myrtle Cumming, of Powell River and Miss Annabel Yates, of Vancouver, wore dresses trimmed with tiny flowers of self material nestling in the cupped bodices topped by tiny jacks. Blue feather and tulle coronets complemented beautiful ensembles. Their bouquets were of delicate Peter Fisher pink carnations. The petite flower girl, Miss Loree Eldridge, of Vancouver, wearing a gown of blue organza and lace, carried a basket of harmonizing spring flowers.

Best man for the groom was William J. Griffith, of Vancouver, brother of the bride, and ushers were Dr. Gordon Stranks and George P. A. Shirokoff, of Vancouver, who were former schoolmates of the groom in Tientsin, China.

Following the nuptial rites, a reception was held in the Connaught Room of the Georgia Hotel, Vancouver.

Assisting in receiving the many guests were the mother of the bride, attired in a gown of orchid-colored lace over taffeta with matching accessories, an orchid feather chapaneu and a corsage of cream rosebuds, and the mother of the groom, wearing a black sheer afternoon dress, with plumed train and accented by a rose sash, which was designed by Miss Ruth Tutman of Penicton.

Cashmere coat with a full back and push-up sleeves and she wore a corsage of mauve orchids.

The young couple, who were formerly members of the staff of the Bank of Montreal, will reside in Quesnel where the groom will be a member of the staff of the Cariboo Observer. The groom attended school in Tientsin, North China and also at UBC, and the bride attended school in Powell River.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. George Thom and Mrs. Elsie McCleave of Penicton; Capt. and Mrs. A. F. Yates, of Nanaimo; Dr. and Mrs. George Bryant, of Chemainus, Vancouver Island; Miss D. Bryant, of Ladysmith; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Gayton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ford and Miss Myrtle Cummings, all of Powell River; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. John Wilde, of Victoria, and O. H. Solbakk, of Seattle, Washington.

Parks, City Will Meet To Discuss Mutual Problems

Development of roads in the Guernsey's Pond area and the question of the city parks board's making its own grave liners for the cemetery will be discussed at a meeting between council members, parks board officials and representatives of the city's engineering department.

A meeting will be arranged to discuss the questions arising from two parks board requests made to City Council this week.

The board stated in one letter that, if full road development is carried out near Guernsey's Pond, certain parks board projects cannot be completed.

The second letter asked if the board could be provided with space in the city yards to set up a cement mixing machine and a gravel stockpile so that grave liners could be manufactured.

Zone Meeting Of Legion L.A. Attended By 53

Fifty-three women attended the zone meeting of the South Okanagan Simlikan District of the Canadian Legion Ladies' Auxiliary which was held on February 15 in the Legion Hall.

Districts represented at the meeting were Penticton, Summerland, Peachland, Oliver, Osoyoos, Okanagan Falls and Princeton. The annual reports given by the delegates showed the auxiliaries had a very busy year. Donations were made to the Legion bursary fund, to veterans' hospitals and to numerous other charitable and community enterprises.

Officers elected at the meeting for 1953 were Mrs. Thor Anderson of Copper Mountain, president; Mrs. Pat Powell of Copper Mountain, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Jean Pugh of Osoyoos, first vice-president. Installing officer was Mrs. N. G. Kincaid, of Penticton, representative of the provincial committee. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to members for their support during

FEAR OF SHELTERS

It is seldom that any member of the deer family makes use of enclosed shelters during inclement weather, possibly because of the danger involved should quick escape be necessary. The Bighorn sheep and Rocky Mountain goat have no such qualms, for every natural cave, large or small, in the mountain country where they abide gives evidence of constant occupation, especially during the rainy season and the months of winter. Such shelters are known as "goat caves" or "sheep caves" by mountain people.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to members for their support during

METER COMPLAINT

In your February 4 issue under the heading "Read, Mark, Learn" relating to parking meters. City Council suggests motorists spend more time reading instructions in order to avoid complaints.

In this connection I would point out that the meters are remarkable for the instructions omitted, thereby swelling the revenue at the expense of the unwary visitor. There is no mention made as to where you must deposit your pennies or in which meter. One is evidently as good as the other.

I was fined $2 for violation — offence, not placing my pennies in the meter immediately on parking and putting them in the wrong meter. I went to the City Hall and had a very agreeable official read the parking meter by-law to me. I was surprised to learn that no mention is made of any particular meter, in which you must deposit your pennies.

We are all familiar with that good old chestnut, "ignorance of the law is no excuse," but the visitor should not be expected to run to the City Hall for this important information. It wouldn't occur to him. The logical place for it is on the parking meter. After all the visitor leaves in the aggregate considerable revenue with the storekeepers and should be given a fair run for his money. A friend of mine has just told me that a number of the meters are not working satisfactorily.

SUSPENSION JUSTIFIED

Judging from current press and radio reports, there appears to be a feeling in some quarters that the four game suspension handed down by the BCHA to Penticton player George McAvoy was too severe.

I think you will agree that even the most rabid hockey fan, if he has one lot of sportsmanship in him, realizes that referees must be respected and protected from physical or verbal abuse by the strict enforcement of stringent penalties and punishments.

Should anyone take the time to investigate league statistics, they will, I believe, discover that stricter sentences than that given to G. McAvoy have been meted out by the BCHA in past years, for similar incidents perpetrated by players participating in the OSHL.

In the 1950 hockey season, Kelowna Packer defenceman Bob Middleton received a five game suspension for "gently patting" referee Waite's shoulder, as he (Middleton) skated to the penalty box to serve a minor penalty awarded to him by said referee Waite. Like McAvoy, Bob Middleton had quite an impressive penalty record at the time, so therefore the incident could be compared very favourably with the McAvoy fiasco of February 7. Kelowna sports announcers and commentators generally felt at the time that Bob Middleton's five game suspension was quite justified, and one announcer in particular thought he was lucky the sentence wasn't stiffer. I would have thought that Penticton sports announcers and commentators would have been among the first to uphold the decision of the BCHA in McAvoy's case, so that the younger generation in our valley, from whom will be recruited the hockey players of tomorrow, will be made to realize that unsportsmanlike attacks on referees are not condoned in good sporting circles.

While on the subject of suspensions, I think it should be remembered that any player who is a constant "bad-man" must expect to be watched and censured by the arbiters of the game much more closely than the one who is usually passive, and only loses his temper momentarily in the excitement of the game. One might even say that a perpetual "penalty box warmer" is a marked man, when such things as suspensions are meted out, and it behooves the team coach to see that he governs himself accordingly. No doubt the extent of a player's penalty record is seriously considered as well as the gravity of the offence, when league disciplinary action is taken.

Perhaps there is room for argument that this should not be the case, but when Penticton has played organized hockey the length of time that Kelowna has, they will realize that it is only too true nevertheless.

In view of the aforementioned, it is hoped that Penticton fans and their hockey club officials will now realize that all things being taken into consideration, McAvoy's suspension was quite justified, and that he has not received a stiffer punishment than that meted out for similar offences in the past in the OSHL.

I thank you for allowing me the space to pass on these facts to the sporting public and in closing may I say it is hoped that the best and cleanest team in the OSHL represents the Okanagan in the B.C. playoffs, so that this valley will keep unblemished its record for good sportsmanship.

J. H. HAYES,
Kelowna.

"GOOD CITIZEN"

May I take the liberty, Sir, of complimenting the good people of Penticton, through you, upon their selection of D. P. O'Connell as "Good Citizen" for 1952.

Having known Dan O'Connell since he was a small boy, I can appreciate the merit of the man. As a lad he was an example of helpfulness to others; if some elderly person required aid in carrying a burden, Dan O'Connell was ever her one tourist attraction. I understand there is about $7,500 outstanding on personal notes," he said.

"It would give the directors heart if they could get some help from us," said Alderman Christian and he added, "it is about time we improved our public relations with these groups which are working for the benefit of the city."

Alderman H. M. Geddes commented that there are 15 directors and the association still has no president. "There is not one man who will take the responsibility until there is some indication where the festival is heading," he said.

Evening Branch Of S. Saviour's To Hold Lenten Teas

At the second meeting of 1953 of the Evening Branch of S. Saviour's Women's Auxiliary, held in the lower parish hall on February 10, it was decided to hold two Lenten Teas during the Lenten season. The first tea will be held at the home of Mrs. P. C. Hatfield, 864 Fairview road, with Mrs. R. S. Scallie, Mrs. D. E. McFarland, Mrs. S. Wade, Mrs. H. N. LeRoy, Mrs. E. Riley and Mrs. Paul Walker as assistant hostesses, and the second tea will be held at the home of Mrs. P. Wiseman, 1040 Killarney street, with assistant hostesses being Mrs. N. Phipps, Mrs. D. A. Moore, Mrs. J. W. Davidson and Mrs. F. E. Cantrill.

The president, Mrs. M. W. Bird, reported on the arrival in Penticton on March 23 of Miss Millar, a missionary on leave from Japan and India, who will address the Evening Branch. It was decided to invite the other organizations within the parish to hear Miss Millar's address in March.

Correspondence was read from members who have recently left the city.

Following the general business meeting, refreshments were served.

ready to proffer his assistance. His good humor and leadership of lads of his age was worthwhile and of real value to the community as a whole and to his playmates.

Dan comes naturally of his fine character as his parents were splendid people who endeavored to exemplify in their daily lives and conduct towards others the Christian principles that they professed. His brothers were splendid athletes and real community leaders.

May I add that it gives me sincere pleasure to see Penticton maintaining such a high standard for its citizenship award, in making its Citizenship award, in association with Mr. H. J. Welch, I was privileged to initiate the idea of making such acknowledgment of service, when The Native Sons of B.C. in 1922 set up the pattern for such amongst B.C. cities. Vancouver has made a "Good Citizen" award ever since.

anticipated. During his discussion of proposed expenditures, the minister pointed out that the aggregate of expenditures authorized for the current year amounted to $150,862,000, but that by the application of rigid economies since assuming office the government hoped to effect savings of over $5,500,000.

The additional cost of education to be borne by the province by the adoption of a new formula was estimated at $4,440,000. Under the new formula direct grants of $28-260,000 would replace the $24,850,000 authorized this year for direct grants to school boards, and the one-third of the sales tax distributable to municipalities. To make certain that no municipality would receive less under the new formula than it did in 1952, special aid to municipalities amounting to $1,030,000 was provided.

Because of the elimination of the yearly distribution to municipalities of one-third of the collections under the social security and municipal aid tax act, the title of the act would be altered to "social security and educational aid tax act."

Except for increases in the departments of agriculture, attorney-general and education, all other departments showed substantial cuts and economies, when compared with authorization for the current year. In the attorney-general's department, increased expenditures are to provide adequate accommodation for prisoners and to improve the deplorable conditions existing in provincial jails.

The capital works program to be paid from revenue will require a gross outlay of $41,762,000, of which amount $26,293,000 is for roads, bridges and ferries; $405,000 for forest development roads; $495,000 for mining roads; $5,500,000 for provincial buildings; $3,000,000 for grants towards hospital construction; $1,200,000 for Okanagan flood control; $2,650,000 for the PGE Railway; $830,000 for better housing projects; and, $327,000 for recoverable expenditures. In addition the estimates include expenditures of over $10,000,000 for the maintenance of roads, bridges, ferries, wharves, etc. which will be paid out of current revenue.

The federal government's share towards some of these costs will be $6,470,000, and special funds will provide $3,907,000. Thus, the net cost of capital works will be $31,385,000.

The establishment of a toll highways and bridge authority as a Crown corporation was announced to provide roads and bridges that have a distinct regional benefit, and where only the imposition of tolls would justify their immediate construction or operation.

Those who take their winter physical exercise in gymnasium or indoor swimming pool would be well advised to wear slippers while not actually in the water. This will protect the feet from that painful and hard-to-eradicate skin disease commonly known as "athlete's foot."

Keep Visitors Longer

Stay Pays In Tourist Trade

Canada's $261,000,000 tourist income is derived in large measure from tourists who stay longer than 48 hours.

These long stay visitors, comprising only 15 percent of the hundreds of thousands who annually visit Canada, leave behind them 81 percent of the tourist dollars. The short stay visitors, here today and gone tomorrow, although coming in droves to the extent of 75 percent of the total, spend only 19 percent of the tourist dollars.

Packers Crowd V's By Edging Kamloops 3-1

KELOWNA 3, KAMLOOPS 1

KELOWNA — Kelowna Packers climbed another step towards a preferred playoff spot and pushed another prop from under Penticton V's chances with a well-earned 3-1 victory here last night over the front-running Kamloops Elks.

While glittering goal-keeping, particularly on the part of Kelowna's Jack Gibson, was a feature of the fixture, the harder work of the Packers forwards also contributed greatly to the victory. Both goalies hung out their shut-out shingles in the first period and it wasn't until near the middle of the game that George Tamblin sunk a double relay from linemates Joe Kaiser and Brian Roche to start things popping.

It wasn't until Dick Kotanen picked up the first Kamloops penalty and his first of two minors, that the Elks tallied their solitary marker. A pass-out during a Packer power play misfired and fleet Billy Hryciuk, probably the fastest man in the league, was away like a rabbit. He beat Gibson with a slap shot from about 12 feet out.

But Jim Middleton got that one back in a half minute with a round-behind-the-net spin and a sudden flick shot from the crease line while all the defenders were looking for a passout. That left the second period score at 2-1 and proved to be the winner.

The crowd had hardly settled back in their seats when Frank Kuly, playing another strong game on the forward line but used on defence a few times, too, blasted the rubber pass Gordon, Jim Hanson helping in the deal.

According to a report by City clerk H. G. Andrew files levied in police court here during 1951 totaled $7,008 compared with $5,989.70 during the past year. Council received the report without comment.

Value Of Irrigation Stressed By Yale M.P. In Recent Debate

Discussing the proposed irrigation project for Saskatchewan during the recent debate in the House, O. L. Jones resurrected memories of 30 years ago in the Okanagan and told how and where then being sold at $5 an acre was now by virtue of irrigation selling at $2,000. Mr. Jones' remarks as reported in Hansard follow.

Mr. Speaker, before the dinner recess I listened with interest to the hon. member for Vancouver South (Mr. Laing) discussing this project. He mentioned that as the member for Yale I could tell the house something about irrigation. However, I am afraid from the statements he made that he arrived at the wrong conclusion. As the member for Yale, which is an area possibly more advanced in irrigation than any other part of North America, I can say from my own experience that I think the South Saskatchewan river project should be proceeded with regardless of the cost. I say that because my memory goes back 30 years, to the time we faced a similar problem of whether or not to go ahead with an irrigation scheme. I remember well that some papers opposed the scheme. They said it was impractical and that the cost would be too great. They said that a cost of up to $30 an acre for irrigation would break the farmers.

Looking back over those 30 years I well remember the type of land that was involved, covered with sagebrush and in some cases not even capable of sustaining that sagebrush. It was being sold or offered for sale for $5 an acre. A lot of it was bought at that price and some at $10 or $15 an acre. Last summer I was in that same district. It has been irrigated now for about 20 or 25 years. Orchards with young trees on land that was formerly only worth $5 or $10 an acre is selling at $2,000 an acre. That has all been brought about by the application of natural water to good land.

The same condition prevails in the area of the Palliser triangle. I believe that if good water can be applied to that land at a reasonable figure the same success can be achieved. I know that in some cases our irrigation cost ran from $15 to $25 an acre, which may be considered high. But as the hon. member for Vancouver South (Mr. Laing) pointed out, the average income per acre on our land is $1,000 so we could well pay that cost. However, if the crops on the prairie are not so lucrative or do not return such a high figure, I claim that that type could very well bear the cost of the figures stated here today, $6 or $7 an acre.

I am satisfied that this scheme would well repay the government in five, ten or twenty years. As it is that life-giving water, that wonderful stream is emptying itself into the ocean and is of no value. You cannot recover next year or in twenty years what you miss this year. It is a matter of taking steps immediately to apply that water to the land to make the central part of Saskatchewan a prosperous area,

Report Features To Be Put Into Practice Here

An expenditure of a sum not to exceed $6,000 was authorized by City Council this week for professional supervision in the implementation of certain recommendations contained in the Stevenson Kellogg report, compiled by that firm of business management experts recently.

The experts will prepare an annual budget in conjunction with city officials in the manner recommended in the report; revise the cost accounting procedure methods; study and redesign the financial statements; review the code of accounts and prepare a standard practice instruction manual to define and describe the procedures which will be carried out during the supervision period and in the future.

City Man Builds Patent Cider Mill

Windfall and small size apples need not be wasted in future if a cider press, built by L. Gobolos, an upper bench orchardist, proves popular.

Mr. Gobolos' press, which has been patented, is capable of producing four barrels of cider or apple juice a day.

The press is worked by two men, one grinding the apples into pulp and the other working the pressing operation.

All parts of the machine have been built in Penticton. Woodwork was done by local firms and the ironwork, including the casting, was also done locally.

The machine, which weighs about 150 pounds, is at present on display in the window of Reid-Coates hardware store.

giving those farmers who are now applying to leave the district an opportunity to make a livelihood.

I am speaking now from real experience because I have seen worse land, covered with sagebrush, brought into production and bearing crops second to none on the North American continent. I heartily approve of the scheme, and I would like to point out that practically every member from British Columbia, knowing the experience we have had, would give full support to any steps the government cares to have to implement this scheme.

I realize that the cost is great and that the government hesitates on that account, possibly because of the fear of repercussions from the rest of Canada; but I can assure them that as far as British Columbia is concerned we will give full support to any scheme the government may deem fit and proper, and that it would be prepared to undertake.

SECOND CORONATION FOR BANDSMEN — Bandsmen of the Royal 22nd Regiment sail this week to join Canada's NATO formation in Germany and to participate in the Coronation ceremonies of Queen Elizabeth II. They are, above, Sergeant Major Philippe Di-Marzio, left, and S/Sgt. Raymond Pouliot, both of Quebec City.

By-Laws Are Not Recommended As Light Reading

Generally speaking city by-laws are not to be recommended as the ultimate in light reading and on Monday this was borne out by the comments of Major H. N. Fraser who sat through part of the council meeting, but left immediately after a by-law governing city expenditures was read.

The explanatory letter accompanying the by-law outlined — in three full pages — objects of the legislation which authorizes city officials to sign cheques. In short, the by-law gives authority for a system which has been in operation for many years.

As Major Fraser rose to leave Mayor W. A. Rathbun declared, "I hope you have found our discussions interesting."

"I did until you started reading the letter and the by-law," Major Fraser replied.

City May Be Able To Set Own Speed Limits

City Council may soon be able to set its own speed limits within the city boundaries, even on provincial government highways. Alderman Wilson Hunt told council this week, reporting on an interview with an official of the Motor Carrier Branch in Vancouver last week.

It was suggested that the stretch between the forks and the substation on Main street might be changed from a 30 mile-an-hour zone to a 40 mile-an-hour zone.

An audience listens; spectators watch.

Study Possible Improvements To Evans Loop Road

A request of bench residents asking for the graveling of Evans Loop, a bench road, was referred to the board of works department by City Council this week.

The request was made through Alderman J. G. Harris reporting on a business meeting of the North Bench Ratepayers' Association held last week.

"The association canvassed the residents of that road and it was found that 75 percent requested that the road should be gravelled," he told council.

"The ratepayers at the meeting indicated that fruit stands which now encroach on the highway will be moved if the road is to be improved," Alderman Harris declared.

Disposal Of Old Hospital To Be Studied By Council

Disposal of the old hospital when the new building is occupied will probably be discussed by City Council in the near future.

At Monday's meeting Mayor W. A. Rathbun told council that serious thought should be given to the disposal. "I suggest that we all think about it and possibly discuss it next week," he declared.

The science of Chiropractic is ushering in an entirely new era of healing. It completely revolutionizes old laws and theories in respect to health and disease.

Rather than treat the effects of lowered resistance, which predisposes to disease, Chiropractic deals with the cause and by so doing offsets chronic ailments and prolongs life.

Very little is known about the many forces about us. Even the common commodity electricity has not been clearly defined. We know it only by its physical manifestations. Chiropractic has definitely established life as an energy or force and it is this life force that the Chiropractor aids in regulating.

J. W. McConnachie Bench Ratepayers Ass'n President

J. W. McConnachie was elected president of the North Bench Ratepayers Association at the annual meeting held last Wednesday at the Poplar Grove Hall.

Vice-president is J. W. Johnson. Other officers are Mrs. H. Kingsley, secretary-treasurer and Bud Pearson, Jack Reading, Avery King and Maurice Rippon. All will serve two year terms. Mrs. Leslie Balla, George Kingsley and J. S. Hauser, elected last year, each have a year still to serve.

A resolution, urging a low fixed assessment on land used for agricultural purposes of any kind within organized territory, whether one acre or more, was passed and will be forwarded to the provincial government and copies will be sent to City Council and the fruit and vegetable workers union.

Other business included discussion of the irrigation system. Members asked Alderman J. G. Harris if assurance could be given to growers that, after paying the increased irrigation rates, the city's appropriation would not be reduced. Alderman Harris declared that he could give no such assurance.

Lyman Seney, president of the Board of Trade, addressed the meeting on Board of Trade work. He said that he would welcome a nucleus of growers within the board in order that at least one or two growers could be appointed to each board committee.

TO COMMISSION
A plan, proposing subdivision of property near Skaha Lake, was referred to the town planning commission by city council this week.

Penticton Lions Club will conduct the Easter Seal drive for funds for Crippled Children here in Penticton and the campaign, under the chairmanship of Lion Keno Balla, will start on March 5.

The campaign, the seventh annual Easter seal drive, will continue until Easter Sunday, April 5.

According to Mr. Balla, half the money collected in the campaign will be used in Penticton and the remainder will go to the B.C. Society for Crippled Children to support the province wide three point program of preventative research, education and direct services.

Penticton's campaign is part of a drive which is conducted simultaneously throughout the ten Canadian provinces and the Northwest Territories.

Eric Olson Elected 1953 President Of Scandinavian Society

Eric Olson was elected president at the annual election meeting of the South Okanagan Scandinavian Society which was held in the K.F. Hall on Tuesday evening. Past president is Alf Miller.

Other officers elected were A. Goranson, vice-president; Mrs. Alma Almijell, secretary-treasurer, and Oscar Nelson, Robert Carlson, Mrs. O. Nelson, Mrs. J. Shannon, Mrs. R. Carlson, G. Langbell and M. O. Anderson, executives.

The sum of $20 voted for the Overseas Flood Relief fund, and moving pictures supplied by the Penticton Film Council were shown at the meeting.

Tourist Dollars Are Worth Going After M. J. McCormick Tells Interested Group Here

Importance of tourist dollars to the economy of country, province and community was emphasized and re-emphasized by M. J. McCormick, managing director of the Vancouver Tourist Association, speaking at a joint meeting of the Penticton Board of Trade and Tourist Association held last Thursday aboard the SS Sicamous.

Guests at the meeting were tourist operators from the Kelowna area and from Osoyoos.

In his racy address, which bristled with forceful statistics, Mr. McCormick sought to drive home to his listeners that a dollar invested in advertising or in providing tourist entertainment and recreational facilities was returned ten-fold.

CASH RETURN
He cited Penticton's and other city's share of the SS and MA tax as instances of solid cash returns.

Tourists contributed to Penticton's share of the SS and MA tax. They contributed through their huge purchases of gasoline, their "astonishing" purchases at government liquor stores and in the many articles they bought which are subject to the levy, Mr. McCormick declared.

"But for the tourists' contribution to the SS and MA tax it would have to be increased to four percent to meet our needs, whether tourists travel here or not we need roads and we need other services for our own use," Mr. McCormick stated.

To illustrate the richness of the harvest Mr. McCormick said that British Columbia's tourist revenue last year was $70,000,000. He waved an American silver dollar before his audience. "Think of it, $70,000,000 created elsewhere, created out of someone else's labor, someone else's natural resources. Seventy million in real money, $70,000,000 like this one," enthused the speaker waving the silver dollar. And if one million of these were piled one on top of the other they would reach a height of two-and-a-quarter miles. The tourist industry is indeed big business."

Penticton's turnover from the tourist trade was estimated by the speaker at between $1,500,000 and $2,500,000. "I think that is a conservative estimate, but what does it mean? It means more employment, people employed must have places to live, more services. Increased employment spreads out in an ever widening circle."

Penticton's hotels, Mr. McCormick estimated are grossing about $250,000 a year from their operations.

"The tourist industry is an amazing industry. I know of no other business which is left with the product after it has been sold, that never receives an invoice for what it is selling. Our lakes, rivers, mountains, fishing—we sell them to the tourists and we still have them to sell again next year.

"But we can't do things without money. I am often asked what I would do if we had a million dollars to spend? I'd go into television to show people what we had. I'd take a centre spread in the Saturday Evening Post—it would cost $51,000. That's the kind of thing I would do if I had the money."

Some communities, Mr. McCormick said, do better than

Last Rites For Mrs. W. Nicoll, 71, Of Naramata

The Naramata United Church was the scene on February 16 of funeral services for Mrs. Mary Agnes Nicoll, 71, who died in the Penticton Hospital on February 12.

Mrs. Nicoll, who was a resident of Naramata for over 16 years, was born in Palmerton, Ontario. She was an active member of the Women's Auxiliary to the Naramata United Church.

Mrs. Nicoll is survived by her husband, William; two sons, David of Calgary, Alberta; and Austin, of Edmonton, Alberta; two daughters, Miss Margaret Nicoll and Mrs. Mary Agnew, of Milbrae, California; two stepsons, Ray Nicoll, of Millet, Alberta, and Connell Nicoll of Carmel, Alberta; one brother, S. J. Deans of Millet, Alberta, and three granddaughters.

Rev. G. G. Harris and Rev. A. C. Pound officiated at the services. Committal was made in Lakeview Cemetery. Penticton Funeral Chapel was in charge of arrangements.

MORE DOMESTIC WATER

In anticipation of more water becoming available when the old hospital is vacated, City Council will advertise that ten new domestic water services will be allowed on the highline. Preference will be given to previous applicants, council agreed this week.

Others in providing funds for tourist trade development. Victoria contributes 60 cents per person in the form of a City Council grant. Honolulu spends a dollar per capita, Jersey City, $1.25; Seattle, 35 cents.

This means increasing competition. Last year the American tourists spent one billion, 250 million dollars outside the USA. The largest percentage of this came to Canada but by only a small margin. Canada received $261,000,000, Great Britain, Western Europe and the Mediterranean countries, $260,000,000.

Of this $261,000,000 British Columbia received $70,000,000.

Greatest benefit from tourist dollars lies in increased employment, Mr. McCormick stated. The food producing industries benefit to a great extent. Last year, the speaker told his interested audience, visitors to Canada consumed 18,000,000 pounds of meat. "It can be taken for granted that tourists are going to eat three meals a day whatever else they spend their money on. One and a half million tourists came to British Columbia last year, doubling the province's population. That means double the food requirements and in consequence the food producers benefit."

Mr. McCormick contended that the tourist dollar benefits the community as a whole. It benefits even the pensioner by keeping his taxes down and by broadening the tax base, he declared.

R. F. "Cappy" Ralke introduced the speaker and Edgar Dowdney moved the vote of thanks.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Percy Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Cumlino and Mrs. Dorothy McKibbin, all of Osoyoos and from Kelowna, J. Briscoe, J. A. Carlson, R. Lundeen, Bud Fisher, E. Waldron, R. E. Wilson and A. E. Callas.

Space Arrangements In Kitchen Can Be Improved

By Frances James

Not long ago we had a little discussion on improving the arrangement of supplies and utensils in your existing cupboard space. We suggested that the simple procedure of discarding, sorting and rearranging could sometimes solve the problem. If it doesn't, then the next step is to add step-shelves, partitions, hooks and gadgets to the existing cupboards.

Standard cupboards, whether bought as a unit or built, usually allow too great a space between the shelves for the average amount of equipment to be stored. The result, with which we are all familiar, is that different items are stored one on top of the other and invariably it is the utensil at the bottom and at the very back which is needed in a hurry.

This necessitates carefully removing all items above and in front of it or precariously digging it out from behind and under, thus seriously jeopardizing those utensils on top and in front.

A step shelf 3 or 4 inches wide, placed at the back of a deep cupboard will allow more articles to be stored underneath it and others on top. This will increase the shelf area and the ease with which each piece can be located. Hooks for cups and jugs serve much the same purpose. Some experts claim hooks result in a high casualty to cup handles and therefore recommend the installation of step shelves wherever possible.

Vertical partitions designed to hold trays, cookie sheets, large platters and cake dishes will save space and provide a more secure storage area for these awkward utensils. Recently we have seen racks similar to dish draining racks but small enough to fit into the cupboard. These are intended to hold all sizes of plates from dinner plates to saucers.

To store small awkwardly shaped kitchen utensils such as the egg beater, rolling pin, potato masher, etc., hang them on hooks at the side or from the roof of the below-counter cupboards. These may require right angled hooks or curved ones but by experimenting with them in various positions you will find that usually two placed strategically will do the trick.

Racks placed on the back of cupboard doors are splendid for storing small spices, lids or pots and pans, etc. The neatest idea for lids is simply a piece of heavy cord, or rubber covered wire stretched across the back of the door. The lid will fit snugly behind, with the knob resting on the string or wire. This holds them securely in position so there will be no clatter when the door is opened and closed.

While adding these simple storage improvements cast a search-glass at the interior of your cupboards to see how they measure up for color and design. You may achieve a functional storage unit in your kitchen but if it does not utilize good color and design it can be a depressing place for you, the homemaker, to spend your working hours.

We are fortunate today to have plastic coated washable wallpapers available to brighten the interior of cupboards. A gay pattern can be thumb-tacked, pasted or stapled to the back wall inside each cupboard and used to line the shelves.

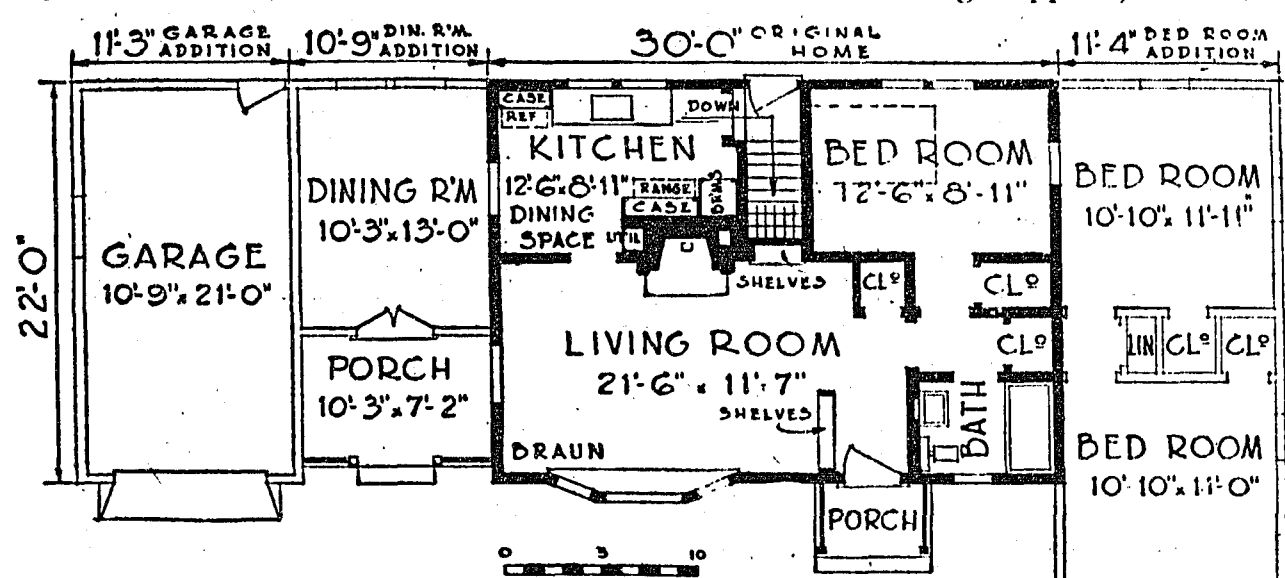

If there are open cupboards in your kitchen, protect them with a window blind covered with wallpaper to match the cupboard lining. The blind will keep dust out of the cupboard and provide a bright gay note when covered with wallpaper.

WORK-SAVER TIP!

You can save time washing ash trays, by first waxing them. Ashes don't stick, stale tobacco odors don't linger — and best of all, they can be wiped clean with a cleansing tissue, in a jiffy!

THIS PLAN IS THE FIRST of a new series to be published in the Penticton Herald. House types include those suitable for small city lots or larger country lots. Rafters Act As Base For Roof Finish In House Construction

Tropical Flower Literally Heat Giving "Plant"

Looking for a really modern heating system? Forget about gas, oil, coal and even atomic heat. Jivaro Yaguas and Wilotos of the Amazon Basin, who have successfully pioneered in the techniques of shelving human heads to fist size, have also the answer for the most up-to-date system to keep your house warm in the winter.

It's a plant which emits heat without burning. The Jivaro call it "fire flower" and botanists who have introduced it to Monte Carlo named it "Victoria Cruziana." Victoria Cruziana is a giant water lily whose leaves measure up to two yards in diameter. Its flowers give off a vanilla scent and change color as the day advances — white at sunrise, pink at noon, deep red at twilight. Another peculiarity of the plant from the Brazilian selva is that it submerges to "hatch" its grains.

Luckily, there are no patent dues to pay for the fire flower.

In one sense, rafters bear the same relation to the roof as joists to the floors. They serve as a base for sheathing and roofing materials. In flat roofs the rafters should be designed in the same way as floor joists.

Although there are different types of auxiliary rafters, regular rafters are the ones that run directly from the eave to the ridge.

Spacing varies from 16 to 24 inches. For ordinary one-inch roof sheathing, 20 inches is satisfactory. Generally, wider spacing is not advisable. Conversely, closer spacing than 20 inches is unnecessary except where roofing materials are heavier than normal. If the attic is to be finished and the undersides of the roof rafters plastered, then 16-inch spacing should be used.

The size of regular rafters depends on the weight of the roofing material, the snow loads and the span of the rafters. A general guide for allowable loads and spans may be found in the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation building standards. The span of the rafter is the distance between the point of the roof and the wall. Any overlap past the wall is not counted in the span.

The length should be sufficient to allow for the projection at the eave and the joint at the ridge. This should not be confused with the span. If the rafters run in line with the attic floor joists they should be securely spiked at the joint. In any event they should be notched over the top plate that supports the joists.

Choose a garden location that receives plenty of sunshine, is fairly level and well drained, and is away from large tree roots. Study the directions on the seed packets to see which varieties stand a little cold weather and light frost. Sow these types as early in the spring as the soil is dry enough to be spaded and thoroughly worked into a fine seedbed. Don't plant tender varieties until the weather is warm and settled.

After the seedlings are up, thin or transplant to the distances apart recommended on the seed packets. Crowded plants make weak growth, have small flowers and invite disease. Cultivate occasionally to control weeds and to keep the soil in good condition. Remove faded flowers to stimulate continuous bloom. These are the main points to remember for a prize garden this year.

Before Spring A Gardener's Fancy Turns To Thoughts Of Seeds

With the arrival of the spring seed catalogues, gardeners' thoughts suddenly turn to visions of better annual flower gardens this year. Now is the time for planning to make these dreams a reality later on.

The seedsmen are offering many outstanding new varieties to make your garden more beautiful. You can easily grow these prima donnas by giving the simple but essential

Advice To Help You Avoid Injury When Making Home Repairs

You can avoid injury and unnecessary doctor bills if you follow a few simple precautions while making home repairs.

Buy or borrow a good step-ladder. Never rely on makeshift arrangements such as putting a chair on a table.

Open windows when painting. Never paint in a closed room. The fumes of solvents and thinners may result in seven headaches or nausea.

Take extra precautions with inflammable fluids. Never use near an open flame, nor smoke while using inflammable materials.

Keep working areas clear of tools and paint cans that may trip you.

A little extra care in avoiding accident or injury can make home repairing an interesting and satisfying task.

Hibernal Framework On Delicious Trees Needs Special Care

OTTAWA — The more northerly tree fruit districts of British Columbia have been established for many years. Their economy is based largely on the apple and there is heavy investment in buildings and equipment to handle this crop. McIntosh is the only recommended apple variety which may be expected to survive the climate of these districts when grown on its own trunk and framework. Growers who wish to spread their harvesting season and increase their revenue by growing the red faced with the necessity of providing their Delicious trees with a strains of Delicious are therefore hardy trunk and framework.

Hibernal has been used extensively as a framework stock for Delicious. It is not generally recommended in British Columbia, however, because of its tendency to structural weaknesses when carrying heavy crops of Delicious, particularly in the earlier years of bearing.

Growers who already have Hibernal trees may overcome these weaknesses to a considerable extent by the following, says F. W. L. Keane, Summerland Experimental Station. The scaffold branches of the young Hibernal trees should be top-worked to Delicious at a distance no greater than nine to twelve inches from the trunk. These which have already been top-worked at distances from the trunk greater than 12 inches may be braced with wire and screw-eyes to prevent twisting and breaking of the Hibernal branches. Timely propping of heavily loaded trees is very important.

HEAT RESISTANT PAINT

Heat resistant paint has been developed; which is said to retain its adhesion and color stability under temperatures as high as 1000 degrees Fahrenheit. It is available in most colors and may be applied by brushing, spraying or dipping.

Approximately 20 percent of American farm production is due to the use of fertilizers.

ELKS HOLD OFF VERNON RALLY FOR 6-4 WIN

KAMLOOPS — Kamloops Elks consolidated their hold on top spot in the OSAHL here Thursday night when they staved off a determined last period drive by the Vernon Canadians for a 6-4 victory.

The game was the usual Kamloops-Vernon struggle with both teams playing speedy, hard-driving hockey.

A Canuck rally late in the third period provided some excitement for the fans as smooth Leo Lucchini combined with Johnny Harms for two goals in the last minute of play, but the final horn went when the battling Canadians were still two goals short.

The hustling Vernon crew out-shot the Elks 24-22, but Hal Gordon, turning in his usual stirring performance in the Kamloops net, made the big difference.

SUMMARY
First period—Kamloops, Kotanen (Smith) 2:13; Vernon, Holmes (Lavelle, Tarnow) 2:42. Penalty — Kotanen.

Second period—Kamloops, Brown (Millard) 2:08; Kamloops, Lundmark (Larson) 8:24; Vernon, Ballance (Tarnow, Holmes) 17:26. Penalties — Harms, Taggart.

Third period—Kamloops, Carlson (Millard) 6:52; Kamloops, Bathgate (Millard, Taggart) 13:11; Vernon, Lucchini (Harms) 19:00; Vernon, Lucchini (Harms) 19:54. Penalties — Carlson, Ballance, Harms, Pettinger, Lane.

PACKERS 1, GARAGEMEN 3 CONTRACTORS 2, SUMMERLAND 11

Summerland is breathing hot on the neck of the pace-setting Merchants following an 11-2 trouncing of the cellar-dwelling Contractors in a commercial puck fixture here Sunday.

In the second half of the twin bill the fourth place Garagemen narrowed the gap between themselves and the third place Packers by coming up with a smart 3-1 decision over that team.

The Summerland - Contractors game was strictly no contest as the visitors, Rocky Richardson in particular, fattened their scoring averages. Richardson went hog wild to pick up four goals and a pair of assists to move him to within one point of the top leading scorer, Merchants' George Morrish.

The Summerland victory, which would have been even more overwhelming had it not been for the stellar work of Cliff Petrie in the Contractor nets, moved them to within one point of the idle Merchants.

Ken Watt's Garagemen went into the second game underdogs, but with Maurie Bird leading the way with a pair of well-earned counters, they gave the youthful Packers a lesson in team play.

Gerry Byers opened the scoring for the Packers in the first period, but after that they just couldn't get organized at all, while the Garagemen's combinations were clicking nicely.

BETWEEN PERIODS—Two more hat tricks in Sunday's game, both going to Summerland men. George Taylor and Bob McDougall appear to be going into the export business. Ties and skate sharpenings went to Rocky Richardson and Gordie Taylor. Apart from the concrete gains both men went up the scoring race ladder a rung or two. Rocky now has 26 points, only one point behind leader George Morrish. Sunday's scoring spree puts Taylor third with 24 and Dick Steininger's four assists put him in fourth spot with 20 points. . . . Next week the Merchants play the Garagemen and the green shirts will probably be trying hard to put Morrish further ahead — if the Garagemen will let them. Summerland has the bye so Rocky won't get any further ahead. And that's the closest this column will come to a prediction this week. Last week's guesswork on who should beat who to get into which spot was an object lesson from which a profound truth was gleaned — namely, leave predictions to the star gazers and teacup readers. . . . Both Contractors and Summerland played a short Sunday. Johnnie Graft broke an ankle in the pre-game warmup.

City Hoopsters Too Much For Tonasket Quintettes

The Tonasket hoop squads found the Penticton opposition too tough for them on Monday night when they dropped both ends of an exhibition twin bill — losing 58-53 to Crannas Omegas and 54-26 to the Pen Hi Lakers.

Tonasket brought up only eight players. They saved their two best players for the main game and used them only sparingly in the contest with the Lakers. Ted Bowsfield and Ron Friend, Laker stars, helped the visitors out in the second contest.

The main game was a seesaw battle all the way with the Tonasket squad having the edge in all but the last quarter. They held a 15-9 lead at the quarter and were still ahead 26-23 at the half.

Down 41-44 going into the final frame, the Omegas turned on the heat to pull out a victory. Big Bill Hansen led the Omegas to victory with a 20 point effort and grabbed a major share of the rebounds at both ends of the floor.

Tops for the visitors was Fred Quilpp with 17 points, including seven out of eight free tosses. Chuck Rouge contributed 13 points to the Tonasket cause and Ted Foley-Bennett scored 14 for the Omegas, most of them on fast breaking plays.

In the first game, the Lakers had little trouble with the Tonasket hoopsters — the visitors scored the first basket, but from then on it was all Penticton.

ZONE EFFECTIVE

The Lakers started out with a man to man defence and switched to a zone when they found the Tonasket lads slipping through too regularly. The Lakers led 27-20 when they changed to the zone and the visitors scored only two more field goals while the Lakers swished through 27 more points.

Ted Bowsfield was the big gun for the Lakers with 15 points and Gordie May and Kev O'Connell also turned in good games with 12 and 14 points respectively. Bursby was tops for the losers with eight.

Lakers In Final League Game Here Saturday Night

The smooth Pen Hi Lakers will be fighting for sole possession of top place in the high school senior hoop league when they tangle with the Oliver Hornets in their final league game of the season at the gym here Saturday night.

The Lakers' victory over the rival Hornets last Saturday gave them a two point edge in the standings and assured them of at least a tie for league honors, but the Hornets will be going all out to crowd them on the top rung of the ladder.

The prelim will see the Lakettes play the Hornets and the local Senior B's square off with the Similkameen school aggregation for a final evening of first rate hoop fare.

Connell 14, Drossos 2. Total 54.
Tonasket — Bursby 8, Henderson 2, Weller 4, Rupp 3, Hickerson 2, House, Hirst 2, Farver 3, Quilpp 2. Total — 26.

Penticton Omegas — Hanlon 20, Eshelman 6, Foley-Bennett 14, Russett 12, MacLean, Jordan 2, Bursby 4, Powell, Butler. Total — 68.

BEFORE YOU INVEST IN A FOOD PLAN

Investigate!

Genuine food plans can and DO offer Canadian families more food . . . better food . . . the added convenience of always having a complete assortment of the finest meats, fish, poultry, vegetables, fruit, fruit juices . . . even ice cream . . . instantly available right in their own home twenty-four hours a day . . . seven days a week . . . rain or shine!

AND GENUINE FOOD PLANS CAN AND DO SAVE THEIR OWNERS MONEY ON FOOD!

Not all "food plans" are "GENUINE FOOD PLANS" . . . some of them are plans designed to sell freezers and therefore are rightfully entitled to call themselves "GENUINE FREEZER PLANS"

KNOW THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN "GENUINE FOOD PLANS" AND "FREEZER PLANS!"

ASK THESE QUESTIONS AND BE SURE!

QUESTION

ANSWER

FOOD PLAN FREEZER PLAN

QUESTION	FOOD PLAN	FREEZER PLAN
1. Does the company OWN and OPERATE its own food processing and distributing plant or plants?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
2. Does the company maintain its own food delivery trucks and delivery personnel so it will not require others to deliver its food?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
3. Does the company have its own sources of vegetables and fruit so it will not be dependent on, and force you to pay a second profit to, another processor and/or distributor?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
4. Does the company have its own warehouse stocks of vegetables, fruits, and juices adequate to insure its ability to meet your future food needs?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
5. Does the company have its own salaried and experienced meat buyers who personally select each side of beef, pork, lamb, and veal from the packing plants to insure maintenance of superior quality and flavor?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
6. Does the company offer true "bulk-quantity" packages so it can offer you the maximum bulk-quantity savings, not just a few cents off the full retail price of expensively labelled and packaged dry retail packages?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
7. Does the company finance your budget purchases of food with its own money through a bank so you will not be required to pay personal loan rates of interest through professional small loan companies?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
8. Is the company prepared to finance future food purchases on the same basis as the first order, without requiring you to pay cash or refinance through a small loan company, thus making it necessary for you to pay interest-on-interest?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
9. Does the company depend on the quality of its food, the excellence of its service, the attractiveness of its prices to insure that you will continue to pay for your food instead of requiring you to finance your money, furniture, or automobile as security for the personal loan they might require you to sign?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
10. Does the company offer a printed and signed guarantee of the quality of its food with full exchange privileges?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
11. Does the company publicize the street addresses and phone numbers of its plant or plants, and invite prospects to inspect its food processing and distributing facilities to assure their existence and sanitary conditions?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
12. Is the company solely dependent on its food, and the attendant freezer volume required to provide adequate home food storage, instead of selling food as an adjunct or sideline to a previously established appliance, furniture, used car, or roofing business?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
13. Have the founders and principals of the company had years of successful experience in frozen food processing and distributing instead of having recently added a butcher and other food handlers to its staff of appliance or other commodity salesman and service men to handle a "food plan"?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
14. Do the company's salesmen sell on the basis of food variety, food quality, continuing supply, dependable service, and true "bulk-quantity" food prices instead of "no down payment," low initial freezer price, or extended freezer finance terms?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
15. Does the company know that its plan is so sound, its food so good, its food prices so low that its salesmen do not have to resort to "knocking" other plans, whether "food plans" or "freezer plans", to influence a sale?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>
16. Does the company's bank, the Better Business Bureau, and Credit Bureau report favorably on the company and its previous local food or other business undertakings?	YES <input type="checkbox"/>	NO <input type="checkbox"/>

If the answers to all the above questions are "YES" . . . it's a "GENUINE FOOD PLAN" . . . and Home Provisioners, the originators of the first GENUINE FOOD PLAN in Canada . . . with food processing and distributing plants in Vancouver, Victoria, Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, the Crow's Nest Pass, Hamilton and Kitchener (Ontario) . . . offer its whole-hearted support and endorsement!

If the answer to EVEN ONE question is "NO" . . . Home Provisioners invites you to investigate its original GENUINE FOOD PLAN; inspect its modern food plants and facilities; talk to, telephone, or write any of the more than three thousand families in Canada who are eating better food, more food, and saving money with a genuine AIRCRAFTMAN REG JOHNSTONE, a Chippewyan Indian from Cape Croker near Owen Sound, Ont., killed enough game to keep nine men in food for 10 days during an RCAF winter bush survival course 160 miles west of Edmonton. Using only an ax, hunting knife, cord and steel from a parachute pack and green wood, Johnstone, 25, made this crossword and set of steel-tipped arrows. His instructors said the Indian was in his element in the bush and hunted better with his cross-bow than most hunters do with modern firearms. In the background is a tent of the type in which airmen live during the winter survival courses.

The Pen Hi Lakers clinched at least a tie for top spot in the Okanagan Valley senior A boys high school basketball league at the gym here on Saturday when they downed the Oliver Green Hornets 52-45.

The Pen Hi teams made a clean sweep as the senior B's opened the evening by defeating the SOHS senior B's 40-36 and the Lakettes senior B's 40-36 and the Lakettes senior B's 40-36 and the Lakettes senior B's 40-36.

The game was one of the fastest and most exciting of the season with tight refereeing and both teams playing a wide, open, fast breaking style.

The first string did all of the Lakers' scoring with Ted Bowsfield providing the spark with 17 points, most of them on his jump shot.

MICKY MARTINO TOPS Oliver's scoring, was even more consistent with Micky Martino and Len Lavick the only players to score more than two points. Back in the centre slot, Martino tipped them in from all angles for 22 points, while Lavick played his best game of the season in scoring 14 points.

The Hornets pulled up their socks in the second quarter and cut the Lakers' lead to six points at 25-19. They managed to get within one point in the third frame but couldn't pull ahead. The Lakers put on the pressure in the final quarter and widened the gap again.

In the girls' prelim, the Lakettes finally broke the jinx which has hung over them in

Sorry to hear one of our most enthusiastic members — a very regular player is out of commission for the time being. Ed Backcock is just over a spell in the hospital and he tells me it will be quite a while before he can play again. We'll miss you, Ed, and we will all, I'm sure, be pulling for your complete recovery.

Lots of the members keep asking me just when they are going to start on that new club house. I know no more about it than anyone else and just what I said in last week's column. I heard they were going to start something right away.

Personally, I have this feeling that the sooner we get a decent club house built down there, the sooner we will get a better deal from the city council and parks board regarding a longer lease.

Once they see we mean business by investing our money in a good club house, the more likely they are to come in behind us and make us a little more secure by granting us a longer lease.

They know as well as we do that a good golf course plus a well appointed club house is an asset to any city and especially a place like Penticton where we have to cater to so many tourists.

BASKETBALL

Apropos of what has been taking place in the hockey world around here it might not be out of place to draw attention to what happened recently in Vancouver in a mild game — that is compared to hockey — like basketball. Apparently they too have had their troubles between players and referees, but the commissioners didn't fool. They cracked down and suspended a player indefinitely (not just four games or such) for an assault on the ref.

It might be well for some of the boys in this valley hockey league to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest all this and realize that the same kind of a sentence could very easily be handed out to a hockey player who goes off the deep end, if the powers that be see fit to hand it out that way. Remember the case of Pat Egan, a good hockey player, but a fighting Irishman and as rugged as they come. I think Pat got life.

HOCKEY

The fight for second place is on and from here it definitely looks like Kelowna. Those two games in hand will make the difference and besides I can't see either Kamloops or Vernon breaking their necks to win any more tough games. They'd be foolish to do so, with the playoffs coming up. And without their help we can't take Kelowna ourselves. If we can get our passing plays clicking better — the other three teams have it all over us in that very important department — then we have just as good a chance, if not better, to take the whole works.

Provided, of course, we keep clear of injuries from here in — getting Fleming back again (it was good to see Doug Kilburn back and going so well) and above all stay to heck out of that damned old penalty box — it's a cold miserable spot at any time, so why go there?

And one thing more, an even break — that's all we should expect but it should be even — from the officials.

It was very much better all round in the last game here with Kelowna, but I noticed it was one man — Nelson — who did all the handling out to those two big Kelowna fellows, who have been getting away with too much all season.

And I heartily agree with the three stars of that game — Don

Johnston, Frank Kuly and Grant Warwick. But I hear things were not so good in Kamloops Saturday night. In fact it's the first time I've heard the players themselves complain that they felt "we wuz robbed"!!!!

COMMERCIAL HOCKEY
Summerland seems to be a little too strong for the rest of the league. They have a good team, with Taylor and Rocky Richardson and a powerful defenceman in Rosie Campbell. That was an unfortunate accident to Johnnie Croft, who broke his leg when he got caught in the opening where they sweep off the ice — of all places.

The second game was very good indeed, and did you people notice the good game Denny Carey put up in the Garagemen's net? The boy was piping hot.

HOCKEY BOOSTER CLUB
What's holding up those Booster Buttons, Sid? They should be out and on sale by now if we are going to accomplish anything with them.

Just in conclusion — a personal word of appreciation to Fred Madden for his courtesy in finding me a spot in the press box for that last Kelowna game here. It's a great place to see the plays from, but it was only for that one night. There is not enough room and the out-of-town boys have to be looked after, which is only fair (they look after me up in Kelowna, which I indeed appreciate) and as it should be. So thanks, Fred, it was a very nice gesture.

Kelowna Bears Upset Kamloops In Hoop Thriller

KELOWNA — Kelowna Bears' second victory in as many games and their second of the Interior Basketball Association season was an important one Saturday night.

It meant a playoff berth. If the Bears had lost to the league-leading Kamloops five instead of beating the Merchants 46-43 in a thrillingly close game, they would be on the outside looking in while the other four teams engaged in the annual playoffs.

Bears earned extra consideration from the league officials for their showing against Vernon in the previous game here. Their first victory of the season was conclusive.

Vernon and Kelowna now are tied for fourth and last place. A tie-breaker will be necessary to determine who will go into the semifinals.

Maps first were printed in the second half of the 15th century.

PACKERS BEAT VERNON 6-2; EVEN WITH V'S

KELOWNA 6, VERNON 2

KELOWNA — A combination of brilliant blocking by Jack Gibson and accurate striping by George Tamblin was more than the hustling Vernon Canadians could match as they went down to a 6-2 defeat here Saturday, though they out-shot the home team 40-37.

Gibson was at his best in turning aside 38 blistering drives, Tamblin turned in his first OSAHL hat-trick.

One unusual incident in an otherwise ordinary game was the imposition of 17 minutes at one time on Jim Middleton, alternate captain of the Packers. He and alternate captain John Harms of Vernon became embroiled in a short but vicious fight just at the end of the second period.

Middleton drew a minor, a major and a misconduct. Harms got a minor. Middleton never got back into the game until the final minutes.

SUMMARY
First period — 1, Kelowna, Tamblin (Kaiser, Roche) 17-43; 2, Kelowna, Stein (Middleton, Kuly) 18-36. Penalties — Roche, Geary, Simms, Harms' (minor and misconduct).

Second period — 3, Kelowna, Tamblin (Roche, Kaiser) 3-13; 4,

Vernon, Lavell, 11-17; 5, Vernon, Holmes (Tarnow) 17-45. Penalties — Lahe, Kuly, Middleton (minor, major, misconduct), Harms (major).

Third period — 6, Kelowna, Hergeshimer (Stein) 1-48; 7, Kelowna, H. Amundrud (Tamblin) 6-35; 8, Kelowna, Tamblin (Hergeshimer, Kuly) 18-31. Penalties — H. Amundrud, Ballance.

The Island of Guam, United States defense outpost in the Pacific, is 36 miles long with maximum width of eight miles.

The 1951 census showed Canada's population passed the 14,000,000 mark for the first time and Montreal was the first city to top 1,000,000.

SOHS Hornets Grab Close 36-35 Win From Kelowna

OLIVER — For the third time in four weeks the Kelowna Owls went down to defeat at the hands of the SOHS Hornets by the strength of an Oliver thrust in the final quarter. Led by the blistering attack of Scotland and Butcher, the Golden Owls overcame an early deficit to go ahead late in the game by a few baskets, but lacked the defense to keep them on top. Although Mickey Martino was not up to his usual form, he played a good game on defense and sparked the southern boys to a 36-35 win over the hapless Kelowna five.

In the final quarter the crowd was on its feet on every play, as the score shifted back and forth and the lead changed hands on every basket scored. In the last few minutes the locals put on a terrific display of stalling until the bell rang with the Owls leading 35-34. But Scotland, holding the ball and a one point lead over the visitors.

The game was made exciting by the fancy ball handling of Kelowna's Scotland, and the fine scoring breaks of Lavick, forward for the Hornets.

Kelowna — Smeeth, Greenaway 3, Bennett, McKenzie, Scotland 12, Tait, Serwa 6, Butcher 11, MacNaughton 3. Total — 35.

SOHS — Mickey Martino 8, Bill Martino 6, Lavik 6, Jones, Worth, Redies 4, McLennan, Carter, Topping 6, Gault 6. Total — 36.

GIRLS' PRELIM
The girls' game started with little indication of the scoring power displayed by the Hornets in previous contests. The first frame ended with a 2-0 score for the Golden Owlettes, but the local females found themselves in the second quarter and began to build up a lead that carried them to an overwhelming 31-12 defeat of the Orchard City squad. High scorer was Pollock of Oliver, who tallied 12 points.

Kelowna — Lansdowne 1, Underhill, McKenzie, Walker 3, Kane, Fleck 2, Ghezzi 4, Drake, Lipsett, James 2. Total — 12.

SOHS — Wheeler 2, Seidler 10.

Legion, Rotary All Square In Midget Playoff

Rotary and Legion squads will tangle in the third and deciding game of the city midget puck league semi-finals at the arena next Monday night.

The Legion sextette took the first game of the best of three series 3-2 last week, but the Rotary squad turned the tables this week and edged the Legion by an identical score.

Tommy Weeks tallied twice for the winners and Dennis O'Hara picked up a singleton. Freddie Castron and Fred Harperton notched the Legion counters.

The winner of the Legion-Rotary battle, will meet team number two in a best of five playoff series for the city midget hockey championship.

TWO STRAIGHT
Team two swept its series with team three two games straight, winning the first last week 7-1 and swamping the opposition 11-2 on Monday.

Barry Wade paced the victors with a four goal effort, while Harry Tomlin scored a hat trick and Mike Armstrong and big Roy Moscatto tallied a brace of goals each. Charlie Richards and Johnson scored the losers' two counters.

CAHA Releases Intermediate Playoff Dates

The following schedule of play-offs for Western Canada were agreed upon by the Western Intermediate Committee, at the recent semi-annual CAHA hockey meeting in Ottawa.

SERIES ONE

Sask. vs. Manitoba, March 21-23-25-26-28. Best of five series.

SERIES TWO

*A. Winner of series one vs. Thunder Bay. Best of five series.
B. Alberta vs. British Columbia, March 28-30, April 2-3-5. Best of five series.

SERIES THREE, FINALS

Winner of A vs. winner of B. To commence April 7. If final series played in one location, then best of five. If played in more than one location, then best of seven.

RINK ARRANGEMENTS

Guarantees and gate percentages: small rinks, $600.00 or 75 per cent of gate, whichever is the greater, for first and second series. Larger rinks $800.00 or 70 per cent.

FINALS

Eight hundred dollars or 70-75 per cent, whichever is greater to the CAHA, depending on size of rink. Rinks responsible for all advertising, ticket sales, etc. Local competent referees to be used at not more than $25.00 per game.

B.C. may strengthen Coy Cup winner by two players from within own league. If no league, then from nearest club in their district.

Note: Names of these two players used for strengthening must be announced before a series commences. Transportation will be allowed for 18 players, instead of 16 as printed in the Special Regulations.

Venue of all series will be announced later, when Coy Cup finals get underway. If we draw well, and can meet the guarantee, then very likely Alberta will be sent into the home of the B.C. winner.

B.C. must declare Coy Cup winner by March 25 or 26, in order to meet Alberta winner by March 28.

Resort Operator To Appeal Assessment

Notice of appeal against the court of revision's tax assessment on the Blue and White Auto Court was served on City Council this week by Schorfield Enterprise Ltd. of Penticton. The hearing is set for Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

The appeal is based on the claims that the assessment is excessive because no depreciation has been taken into consideration and also that it is in excess of other similar property in this city.

INTERVIEW ARRANGED

An applicant for the position of electrical superintendent will be invited to come to Penticton for an interview. City Council agreed this week, acting on a recommendation by Alderman Wilson Hunt. Expenses will be paid by the city.

Omeegas On Scoring Spree In Downing Vernon 93-74

Crannas Omeegas, Penticton's entry in the Okanagan Mainline basketball league, shot for the century mark again on Friday night at Vernon. They fell seven points short, but they gave the northern city's Kalamalkas a 93-74 hoop lesson.

The Friday contest was the Omeegas final league game. In winning they consolidated their second place standing and will open a two game, total point semi-final series with the Summerland quintette next week.

In the other half of the season, the loop winning Kalamalkas Merchants will tangle with the Kelowna Bears or Vernon who will play off this week for the fourth playoff spot.

The girls' playoffs will see the third place Penticton team play off with the league-winning Kalamalkas girls.

The Omeegas took the lead in the opening quarter at Vernon Friday and were never headed in the free scoring contest.

BACK ON BEAM
Speedy Daryl Eshelman got back on the scoring beam and turned in a spectacular 23 point performance, while big bucketman Bill Hanlon pushed through 18 and husky Ted Foley-Bennett 16 for the winners.

The Vernon boys were hitting the hoop with a fair amount of accuracy too. Rollo Sammartino and lean Cec Clark shared scoring honors with 19 and 17 points respectively and Sarge Sammartino contributed 16 points.

SUMMARIES
Penticton Omeegas — Hanlon 18, MacLean 6, Russell 7, Jordan 8, Foley-Bennett 16, Powell 11, Eshelman 23, Burtgart 4. Total — 93.
Vernon Kalamalkas — R. Sammartino 19, Janicki 7, S. Sammartino 16, Adams 7, Correale 8, Clark 17. Total — 74.

Trail, Kelowna Win Top Honors At B.C. 'Spiel

Trail and Kelowna grabbed the major laurels as the annual B.C. Curling Association's bonspiel came to an end in Vernon over the weekend.

Reg. Stone of Trail successfully retained his B.C. title and as a result will represent the province in the Canadian curling championships at Sudbury next month.

But the grand challenge victory, slightly shaded by the B.C. title play, came to Kelowna and the rink skipped by Walter Hobbs. Hobbs starred all the way through the two major events and gained the grand challenge by handing Stone's quartette its first loss when the two met in the final. The score was 9-6.

With skip Hobbs all week were Norm Brownlee, third; Mola Glow, second, and Orville Brownlee, lead. Curling with Stone were Roy Stone, third, Buzz McGibey, second, and Hunt McKay, lead. The Stone rink won the right to represent B.C. in the famous Briar competition by edging the Dan, Topping Summerland rink 7-6 in the final on Saturday.

Hobbs also won the grand aggregate cup, having opened the 'spiel with one loss in nine stars, along with Ryalls of Nelson. A draw from a hat was made and Hobbs won the right to first place and the cup that goes with it.

"One Night Blitz" For Red Cross On March 19

Penticton's Red Cross drive this season will take the form of a "one night blitz". The date will be Thursday, March 19, and every effort will be made to reach the community's quota of $7,000.

The last four campaigns here have fallen short of the mark set by the central organization.

"But this time we certainly hope it will be a different story," declares H. W. Corbett, president of the Penticton and district organization.

The decision to arrange a one night effort was recorded at a meeting of the campaign committee held last week.

On the night in question, residents will be asked to keep their porch lights burning — a signal that the home is ready and willing to do its part in helping the Red Cross effort.

Canvassers will work in pairs, wearing white arm bands with red crosses superimposed.

These and other details were announced at the campaign committee's session, held under the chairmanship of Alderman Frank C. Christian, the campaign leader.

The president, Mr. Corbett, with secretary-treasurer R. H. Beckett and executive member Jack Petley met Alderman Christian and other members of the campaign committee: John Coe, D. P. O'Connell, George Dunlop, R. F. Raikes, G. J. Rowland, and J. J. Van Winkle.

Messrs. Winkelaar and Coe have been placed in charge of residential team captains and canvassers, while another committee comprising A. J. Cowie, H. S. Kenyon, and George Dunlop will direct the business firm canvass.

Dr. H. G. Garrioch is the assistant chairman of the campaign effort.

It was suggested at the meeting that bank representatives on the committee might make arrangements to take care of the accounting of the funds during the drive, until they are turned over at a specified period to the Red Cross branch treasurer, Mr. Beckett, for forwarding to division headquarters.

It was also forecast that during the campaign, which really extends throughout the month of March, a system of distribution of receipts to banks and various business firms might be arranged to make the contributing to the fund as convenient as possible.

In past years this has been confined to one central Red Cross campaign office.

There will be no employee canvass this season, except possibly at some outlying railway points and lumber camps.

The district of this branch embraces Penticton, Kaleden, Okanagan Falls and Allen Grove. The districts of Naramata and Summerland have their own branches.

While the local effort, particularly in a residential sense, will be channelled into the one-night effort, the campaign is nationally sponsored from March 2 to 31, and the campaign will continue here throughout that period.

The business firm canvass, however, is expected to be cleaned up before March 19, the date for the "all out blitz."

Receipts are to be in card form, and numbered with a tear-off part for the donor and a part for the Red Cross record. The committee will insist on a careful record of the number of receipts, with completed as well as uncompleted cards being turned back before the close of the campaign.

SPCA Request For Grant To Be Studied

An SPCA request for a tag day, made to City Council this week by Major H. N. Fraser, was referred to a committee for study.

Making the request Major Fraser declared that many people are under the impression that the society is the recipient of a grant. "This is not so. We raise all the money we use ourselves," he said.

Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh, commented that although council set a policy of permitting only a certain number of tag days, the request should be considered.

City Board Of Works Suggests Purchase Of Acetylene Generator

A board of works committee recommendation that an acetylene generator should be purchased at a cost of $250 from the equipment account was tabled by City Council this week, pending study of regulations governing the housing of such equipment.

Alderman Wilson Hunt explained to council that he understood that such a generator must be housed in a concrete vault. "I am in favor of the purchase, but it will cost us more than $250," he said and he added that the matter should be tabled until enquiries could be made.

PLAN Tabled

A proposed subdivision plan for property on Westminster avenue was tabled by City Council this week pending receipt of scale drawings of the property.

Our Town By Jack Scott

THE BIG STARE

Our friends, the Maxwells, invited us to their place the other night to watch television, and it was, more or less, a preview of the stranger sort of tribal life we can expect in the years to come.

Maxwell met us at the door with a fixed, unblinking stare, known in the larger centres as "TV Eye" and in the frozen north as snow blindness.

He led us into the darkened living room, lit only by the bright and fearsome eye of the machine. Another couple had preceded us and Maxwell, shouting over the sound of Jimmy Durante, made the introductions.

I said hello to what later proved to be a bridge lamp and sat down in our hostess' lap.

As my eyes became accustomed to the darkness I noticed that the furniture had been rearranged to permit an obstructed view from the screen and that I was sitting directly behind the other guests.

It occurred to me that when TV really takes hold we may never see anything of our friends but the backs of their heads.

Visitors will have to be more careful about getting into the right apartment in the first place.

I noticed that the Maxwells, moving about to perform their functions as hosts, had developed an uncanny skill at avoiding collision and seemed to have developed a radar sensitivity, like theatre ushers or bats.

Conversation was limited to a few hurried, staccato comments during the commercials.

Maxwell, himself, a man ordinarily bursting with anecdotes, was strangely mute, clubbed into silence by the impact of the atomic miracle of mass hypnosis.

disappeared. "We are now running a popular bar and grill," he said. Friends he hasn't seen in years have been dropping in, especially on nights when the unsuspecting air is filled with Milton Berle, and one night a total stranger appeared at the door, explained that he'd seen the TV aerial on the roof and would sure appreciate seeing a sample or two of the new medium.

Brought his wife back the next night for the wrestling.

All of this, my friend confessed, was cutting pretty heavily into his sleep and wasn't doing his budget.

There will be no employee canvass this season, except possibly at some outlying railway points and lumber camps.

The district of this branch embraces Penticton, Kaleden, Okanagan Falls and Allen Grove. The districts of Naramata and Summerland have their own branches.

There is no "overnight cure" for irregularity

But there is a simple, natural answer to the common problem of irregularity due to lack of bulk

There are men and women (perhaps you're one of them) who won't let "nature take its course". THEY TRY TO SUBSTITUTE UNNATURAL "FORCING ACTION" FOR THE NATURAL REGULARITY WHICH SENSIBLE DAILY HABITS AND SUFFICIENT BULK IN THE DIET COULD PROBABLY MAINTAIN.

Many fall into the habit of using laxatives in a way laxative makers never intended. They take "big doses" willy-nilly without even reading the directions on the label.

Naturally, such overdoing, with products intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage, exerts upon the delicate digestive system an unnatural strain.

There's nothing wrong, of course, with taking laxatives occasionally. If you feel you have to take a laxative, just be sure you take it wisely — in an accurate, recommended dose.

BUT THERE IS A WAY TO AVOID TAKING DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES AND TO PLACE YOUR DEPENDENCE ON NATURE. IF LACK OF BULK IN THE DIET IS YOUR TROUBLE.

In many natural foods — such as certain vegetables, fruits, and grains — nature grows abundant natural bulk which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no other natural food is natural bulk so readily found as in the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel, known generally as bran.

Bran is nature's "laxative" food instead of "a medicine". When properly processed and shredded, whole wheat bran yields smooth, natural bulk that the digestive system can handle in a natural way.

The Kellogg Company has made whole wheat bran into a delicious breakfast cereal — Kellogg's All-Bran.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN PERFORMS NATURALLY WHAT DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES DO CHEMICALLY. IT HELPS CLEAR THE INTESTINES OF WASTE IN A NATURAL WAY. IT PROVIDES SOFT NATURAL BULK FOR EASY NATURAL ACTION.

There is no stomach upset, no churning, no after-effect except the feeling of satisfaction and fulfillment that comes with natural, normal elimination.

To obtain lasting relief, of course, Kellogg's All-Bran must be eaten regularly. You can have it for breakfast every morning secure in the knowledge that it isn't habit-forming.

More than one million servings of Kellogg's All-Bran are consumed each day. This popularity of itself is proof that this natural laxative cereal lives up to what we say about it.

But even better proof comes from thousands of satisfied All-Bran users. They write of their own free will to tell us what natural relief they receive from eating Kellogg's All-Bran daily and drinking plenty of water.

Catch Spring Spirit With New Perfume

"Spring is bustin' out all over" in another month or two! In the meantime catch the feeling of the beautiful weather ahead with a new spring hat, or a gay scarf, or a new perfume. Why not buy yourself a different scent right now — one which brings to mind the soft, fresh breezes of April.

If you are not one of the lucky women who can go south or north or west or east for a few weeks, give yourself a fresh sense of change by surrounding yourself in a fragrance which means a lighter heart. We aren't suggesting for one moment that a change of perfume is going to take the place of a skiing trip or two weeks of sunbathing. But you can help overcome the feeling of being in a rut through the use of perfume. It need not be expensive. Treat yourself to a purse size bottle of one of the perfumes you always have wanted.

You may wonder just which scent is the right one for you. Then go to the nearest perfume counter and frankly discuss what you want with the salesgirl. Tell her whether you would like a light floral scent, or a spicy one, or a fresh, ferny bouquet or one of the many other types of perfumes now on the market. Give her an idea of the "mood" you'd like to create for yourself: "coolly feminine or crisply efficient or subtly coquettish. This will act as a guide for her to select some perfumes for you to test.

Now a word about testing: try out just three different scents at any one time because your olfactory nerve probably will be confused; if you smell more than this number. The correct procedure is to put a few drops on the inside wrist of one arm. Then, after it has dried, sniff — not just once, but two or three or four times. Think about the fragrance. If the first does not quite "do" things for you, repeat the process with a different perfume on the other inside wrist. A third scent should be tested on another part of the arm so that the odors will not be confused. Do take time to "try on" your perfume. Surely you wouldn't expect to buy the just-right hat in less than half an hour.

Which perfume is the one for you? The answer to that 804 question is: the one you like, the one which gives you a sense of being utterly charming and lovely. Develop your own taste in fragrance by testing and living with a perfume which appeals to you. Listen for the comments of those you meet. Isn't this the way you developed your taste in hats? Learn about perfumes so that you will have courage to believe in your own opinion, in fragrance as well as in all other matters which concern your life.

The Women's World

Needlecraft News

by Pauline Roy

IT SEEMS ALMOST EVERY WOMAN has a desire to make her own hats whether she starts from scratch or tries her hand at remaking last year's model. A hat is an indispensable item that can make or break your costume. If you find a becoming hat you are immediately well dressed, attractive, admired — and the lady of fashion you've always longed to be. On the other hand, an unbecoming hat can make you feel dull, dowdy, dreary and wonder if you really should be taking vitamins. It is your hat that announces Spring is on the way. The first hats of the season are fabrics, fabrics with straw trims, braid straws and flowers. They are fancy, feminine and becoming.

Crocheted Hats

The deeper crowns and cloche hats are very popular at present for they are comfortable, youthful and smart. The crown of a crocheted hat can be easily made when knitted or crocheted from wool or cotton thread. Your hat can be dressed up or down according to your need. Color too plays an important role in deciding the type of hat you want to make. For instance, if you want to make a "daddy" or a "chick" hat, choose a dressy color like black, white, silver, gold or a pretty color. Trim it with fancy buttons, veils or flowers. The same pattern can be made up in brown, dark green, rust, red or maroon and trimmed with leather buttons, tailored pins or quills for a sporty effect. You can enjoy making your own hats and trying new patterns. You'll be amazed at your creations and delighted with your ability.

All Set for a Big Day

For Junior Miss dressing up, this cap and bag set offers captivating style, low cost and a few hours of fun making it. Both accessories are crocheted of black shiny cotton and trimmed with a sprinkling of velvet buttons. The deep little pouch bag is gathered together at the top into three points and fastened with button-loops. A direction leaflet for crocheting this HONNET AND BAG may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. PC-5478.

Business Girls' Problem Is Washing Of Nylon Garments

The other evening a group of business girls were talking about nylons and how to wash them. One said she never washed her nylon hose or garments with detergents, always used soap. Are detergents harmful to nylons?

Also, are nylon fabrics weakened, or do they tend to degenerate if kept stored for any length of time? Synthetic detergents, both of the mild or "unbuilt" type and of the heavy duty or "built" type, are suitable for washing nylon garments, including hosiery, since nylon is not weakened by the alkalinity of built soaps and built synthetic detergents. These built products will be most useful where nylon garments have become heavily soiled.

Yellowing of white nylon in laundries may be caused by too much heat in ironing. Nylon also picks up traces of dye from colored garments laundered in the same solution. Nylon has a great affinity for dyes of several different types, hence only a trace of color in the laundering solution may be picked up by a white nylon garment, giving a resultant off-color appearance.

Re possible deterioration of nylon in storage: nylon fabrics, if stored several years under good conditions, are not weakened as a result of aging. Nylon, as with some silks and rayons, is susceptible to damage by acidic substances. Such damage, therefore, should not be placed in cupboards directly above furnace rooms or close to gas heaters, etc. These may provide a pathway for strongly acidic fumes under some conditions and over a sufficiently long period of time weakening of the fabrics could occur.

Garments should be clean when stored. While moth larvae will not attack clean nylon, they may damage garments which are not clean, or, if trapped in a fabric, will eat through nylon goods to escape.

While tapocrea cream is still warm, fold coarsely crushed peanut brittle into it. Spoon into sherbet glasses and chill. At serving time, top the tapocrea with whipped cream and sprinkle with some of the brittle that's been finely crushed.

Most Cases Of Frostbite Between December, February

More cases of frostbite are treated in the average Canadian city between December and February than in Alaska or the Yukon.

Although we tend to associate frostbite with Arctic explorers and the frozen wastes, foot specialists report that it just isn't so. Chief sufferers among the urban dwellers are the ladies who stride through snow and slush in a silver of shoe and a wisp of stocking.

"Nonsense," you utter indignantly, as you read the above. "I never heard of anyone having frostbite here — and for myself I wouldn't know it if I saw it." And therein lies the nub of the story.

Foot doctors say those painful small black-and-blue "bruises" marks some of us observe on the end of our toes during the winter months don't come from toe dancing. That's frostbite. And once you get this painful ailment it keeps coming back winter after winter — because the blood vessels become permanently enlarged.

That's why foot doctors urge women to wear a closed all-leather shoe this time of the year. The leather upper and sole provide protection against the elements, but still allow your foot to "breathe".

This last is very important, because foot moisture should be evaporated rapidly and not allowed to accumulate. Damp feet will freeze faster than dry feet.

Here are a few vital "do's" and "don'ts" to keep your feet in shape until Spring returns: Treat your feet — and particularly around the heels — to a brief massage with lanolin or olive oil especially after a hot bath. Cold tends to dry out skin and plunging your feet into a hot bath will remove the rest of the surface skin oils. Replace them, or your skin will crack.

Make sure your shoes fit properly. Cold feet will blister and swell quickly if ill-fitting shoes rub or press the tender skin. Save your flimsy shoes for Spring or Summer — or at least keep them for dining and dancing. For trudging around in all weather, wear a pair of comfortable all-leather closed-up pumps or oxfords. If your skin is dry, avoid slick-soled shoes. They'll cause cracks around the heel and the back of the ankle.

Don't "over-protect" your feet. Foot doctors say over-long wearing of overshoes or galoshes will make your feet perspire and become tender, leaving them a prey to blisters, skin irritations and even frostbite — when the weather gets cold enough to freeze the unevaporated moisture.

P-T-A NEWS

An interesting program was presented at the Thursday night meeting of the Penticton P-T-A when part of the evening was devoted to an observance of Founders' Day (February 17).

Four past presidents of the local association were warmly welcomed as guests of the evening by president Mrs. Margaret Martin, and an interesting and informative address was given by Dr. D. M. Black, director of the South Okanagan Health Unit.

Dr. Black began his talk by emphasizing that the Health Unit regarded itself as a means of carrying out the wishes of the people of the community which it serves. It is the aim of everyone, Dr. Black continued, to see the health of the community established at the highest level.

Certain points, such as protection against infectious diseases, constantly arise, needing the attention of trained personnel. Then the Health Unit steps in, able to cover a wide field of service with the many resources at its command—resources such as specialists, laboratories, and departments of nutrition, of health education, and of public health engineering.

The Health Unit consists of the medical director, eleven nurses, two sanitary inspectors, one dentist and his assistant, and the necessary clerks and stenographers.

SERVICES FOR CHILDREN
Referring to services for children, Dr. Black reminded his listeners that these should begin during the pre-natal period; the unit is ready to meet this need at any time, but at present there is no demand for its services, thanks to the excellent care given by the physicians of the Okanagan Valley to their pre-natal cases.

Dr. Black did, however, issue a warning to women of the extreme foolishness of postponing the first visit to the family doctor until late in pregnancy, reminding that many doctors charge no higher fee for pre-natal care, than for a last-minute call to the hospital.

After the baby's arrival, the public health nurse, visits the mother in hospital; she will make subsequent visits to the home, frequently during the first month or so, with willing advice on the questions which arise during baby's first few weeks. Later on, the mother finds the baby clinic of great value, where the public health nurse keeps a watchful eye on the baby, while, of course, recommending that any serious health problems be brought to the attention of the family doctor.

At this point, Dr. Black dealt with the advisability of immunization against certain diseases. Protection is given against smallpox, and in a combined vaccine against diphtheria, whooping-cough and tetanus, preferably starting between the ages of three and six months.

All pre-school children should be brought to the clinic once or twice each year, in order that a record of the child's health can be kept.

Referring to the Health Services available to school children, Dr. Black pointed out that the task of examining approximately 10,000 children each year is a colossal one, and the medical inspector focusses his attention on grade one children. Dr. Black emphasized that whenever possible the examination should be carried out in the summer months, prior to the child's entry into school, so that any necessary work on teeth, tonsils, etc., can be done before September, thus avoiding any interruption in the child's attendance. Dr. Black reminded parents that one of them should accompany the child at this examination, for possible discussion and advice.

CO-OPERATION NECESSARY
The policy of examining only grade one children calls for a high degree of co-operation from teachers and nurses, who keep a close watch on the children, and refer any special problem to the medical inspector. The nurse carries out inspection on grades four, seven and ten and also tests eyesight and hearing. A reliable test of eyesight is often impossible with grade one children, but these tests are carried out again in grade two and any defect in vision is brought to the attention of the parents, who should at once seek advice from physician or optometrist.

As the highest incidence of TB exists among young adolescents, high school students are tested by means of the chest X-Ray machine so that any traces of early TB can be detected and promptly dealt with.

Through these services school children receive continuous health supervision. The teachers are alert to signs of under-nourishment and, to frequent absences; they report these to the public health nurse, who visits the home to check and advise, the public health nurse, however, does not diagnose nor prescribe.

The Health Unit arranges special treatment where necessary. Dr. Black spoke of the Crippled Children's Register, and also of the travelling TB Clinic and the travelling clinic from Vancouver Children's Hospital, service being available to children recommended by the family physician.

Dr. Black warmly praised the work of the Junior Red Cross, which provides travelling and other expenses for children requiring treatment away from home; he also referred to the nutrition service, where advice is available to school cafeterias, hospitals and public health agencies.

RETARDED CHILDREN
Dr. Black devoted the remainder of his address to the topic of mentally retarded children, stating that while, unfortunately, nothing can be done for those who are imbeciles, there are many retarded children who, given special attention and training, reach a stage at which they may lead happy, useful lives, and can eventually become self-supporting. Retarded children, however, present a difficult problem, both to teachers and to school administration; as normal school work is beyond their capabilities and they develop poor behaviour patterns.

The speaker explained that in Kelowna, the slow learners and non-learners are grouped together in a special class, but he pointed out that this is far from an ideal solution, as the class of 18 is too large and there is need for a specially trained teacher. Other plans have been tried, and found wanting.

Dr. Black spoke of special schools, mentioning their great disadvantages—when the child eventually leaves the sheltered environment of the school, and tries to take his place in the outside world, he is confronted with the necessity of making a very great adjustment, of which he is not capable.

A better plan, suggested Dr. Black, is that of a five-day boarding school, serving the whole valley, and providing special classes and equipment.

the children would return to their homes at week-ends, thus keeping in touch with their families, and paving the way for an eventual entry into normal every day life. Dr. Black regretted that there is no immediate prospect of the plan being put into effect, as the expense involved would be very great.

Dr. Black referred to the New Woodland School for sub-normal children and to the good work being done at the Grease Clinic, among those cases of mental disease which are amenable to treatment.

Many of the children who need special attention in school are of normal intelligence, but are emotionally unstable. Dr. Black paid tribute to the work of the Child Guidance Clinic which, operating under the Provincial Secretary, visits various centres throughout the Province, giving tests and trying to diagnose the situations giving rise to the retarded mental and emotional development in the children. The clinic consists of a psychiatrist, two psychologists, one psychiatric social worker and a nurse. Their work is so detailed and so thoroughly planned that only four cases can be handled in one day.

The causes of the emotional "off-balance" is sometimes found to be too much repression, sometimes lack of parental control, or it may be due to development of an unsatisfactory situation in the home, in which case it is recommended that the child be removed from the home and placed under foster care.

Dr. Black concluded his talk by stressing that a solution to the problem of retarded children is continually being sought.

Questions put to Dr. Black were on such subjects as dental care, fluoridation of water, polio vaccine and physical education.

FILM SHOWN

Dr. Black followed up his well received address by showing a film, "Preface to a Life", which pointed up some of the situations which arise in the normal life of a child, how they might be handled, for better or for worse, and what ill effects on the development of the child could result from mishandling these situations.

The film showed that the parents of the new-born baby had their dreams, as we all do—dreams of a magnificent future, dreams which father had indulged in on his own account but which had failed to materialize; dreams which mother fondly wove around "her baby", and which would have eventually completely smothered his personality and prevented his ever reaching emotional maturity.

Fortunately for the hero of the piece, the parents laid aside their dreams, kept their feet firmly upon the ground, and provided their son with the affection, security and control which he needed in order to develop into a normal, well-balanced person.

After the showing of the film, Mrs. Martin, the president, marked the observance of Founders' Day by introducing past-presidents of the Penticton P-T-A, paying tribute to their achievements. Mrs. A.

OK Falls Red Cross Donates To Flood Fund

OKANAGAN FALLS — Major Hugh Fraser was elected president of the Okanagan Falls branch of the Red Cross Society at the annual meeting of that organization held last week.

Other officers elected include Mrs. A. Worth, vice-president; Mrs. Conway, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. Thomas, sewing chairman; A. W. Fraser, blood donor chairman; Mrs. Mosely, drive committee; Mrs. Cunningham, committee chairman.

The silver collection of $27.75 turned up at the white drive held following the meeting was donated to the flood disaster fund.

Titchmarsh, the first president of the association and Mrs. G. A. Colquhoun, were unavoidably absent, but Mrs. J. Reading, Mrs. E. Unwin, J. Halcrow and Mrs. W. G. Goy each gave a resume of outstanding events marking their term of office, the brief cavalcade being brought up to date by Mrs. Martin herself.

Each speaker was heralded by the strains of a popular tune of his or her year.

The serving of refreshments brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

VEGETABLE VARIETY

During the winter when vegetables are more limited in variety, one may tire of some of them. But a new interest can often be added by serving them with a cheese sauce, which gives added nourishment in its own supply of vitamins, minerals and proteins. Eaten with turnips, parsnips, cauliflower or cabbage, the cheese gives a new taste and even leftover vegetables take on new life. A good thing to remember, is that the water in which vegetables are boiled is rich in nutrients and should be added to gravies, stews or vegetable juices instead of being thrown away.

The Member Reports

By O. L. Jones, M.P. for Yale

The defence committee has finally disposed of the Currie report although we shall hear repercussions at different times for many months to come.

It is rather interesting to watch the tactics displayed during this debate in committee. All the Conservative members refrained from asking any questions; presumably contending that the report was correct and there was no object in pursuing it further in committee.

Liberal members of that committee on the other hand were very anxious to minimize the effect of this report on the average Canadian. They endeavoured to get Mr. Currie to make a statement that these conditions were not general, but merely located in one or maybe two camps. Mr. Currie, however, would not give way and finally the debate on the

O. L. Jones report collapsed, leaving the committee free to engage in other matters of investigation; although there is pending before that committee a resolution proposed by the Conservatives that Mr. Currie be re-engaged to carry on the probe to all phases of our defence expenditures. It is not likely that this will be accepted because the Liberals on the committee do not agree.

I have received several enquiries from Vernon regarding the possible date when the new federal building will be erected. In view of rumors that are floating around I may state the present situation which is official. On January 16, this year, orders were sent around the various government departments asking their requirements in the new proposed federal building in Vernon. This information is not all in yet. When the requirements of various departments are known, such as fruit inspectors, customs, post office etc., then this information will be turned over to the architects for plans to be drawn according to the space required. When this is completed it is expected that the government will be ready to call for tenders and possibly commence building late in the fall of this year. This same information would practically fit the proposed new federal building at Princeton; where the money for the erection of the same already appears in the estimates for the current year.

It was good news to hear the answer given to R. R. Knight who asked the government if they had considered the implementation of the Massey Commission report in regard to university scholarships. Mr. Fournier on behalf of the government replied as follows: "The government is continuing to study the recommendations on ship and other recommendations on Art, Letters and Sciences and when decisions are made on these aspects of the report, they will be announced by the government in the same manner as were the previous implementations of recommendations, such as those on the National Gallery, the National Library and financial aid to universities." From that answer it would appear fairly sure that the government intends to do something about providing either bursaries or scholarships for some of our splendid youth who need financial assistance to attend university.

The question of the South Saskatchewan dam still engages the attention of the House and came in for an official discussion for two or three days this week. The discussion became very heated; charges and counter-charges were made. It appears from statements made that Mr. Gardiner, for the last ten years or so has been holding the promise of a development of this irrigation project before the voters of Saskatchewan, which Mr. Diefenbaker claimed was done for political purposes. Mr. Gardiner on the other hand says that it was not so; that it took that length of time to get the plans, and ground surveyed and the report completed. Unfortunately the first figure given for the approximate cost of this scheme was around sixty or seventy million dollars, but owing to higher costs and the larger area to be developed it now has reached the staggering sum of two hundred and fifty million dollars, which some suggest is a minimum figure only.

Owing to this higher cost the government is reluctant to launch out on such a scheme as it would bring the per-acre charge for water far too high for economical production of the type of crops that could be grown in central Saskatchewan. On the other hand members from that province claim that it can be done on the recommendations of the PFRA who had a much lower figure for a similar project, which included power and light products as well.

The Conservatives moved an amendment and the CCF a sub-amendment to the effect that the dam be proceeded with. This roused the ire of all Liberal members from Saskatchewan who claimed that it was a political move to put them on the spot as they would have to vote against both the amendments and support the government. On the other hand the opposition members claim that this is done to force the government to carry out at least this one of their election promises. Both sides are still heatedly debating the issue on the floor of the House and no doubt it will have far reaching effects on the political fortunes of the various members from that province at the next Federal elections.

Members representing the sugar beet areas of Ontario have taken an opportunity in the House to place their case before Parliament. Their main contention is that the competition offered Canadian sugar from Cuba and other parts of the world has brought ruin to a once prosperous industry. The House as a whole is sympathetic to the protests but it is very doubtful if anything will be done to subsidize or protect the industry; it would mean a higher price to the consumer.

Mrs. E. R. Stewart's request for permission to operate a rooming house instead of an apartment house was referred to the town planning commission by City Council this week. Recently Mrs. Stewart was granted permission to convert the turkey farm buildings near Skaha Lake into a multiple dwelling.

City's Sewage Disposal Plant An Efficient Unit

By O. A. (Art) BLESS
Sewage Treatment Plant Operator,
City of Penticton

The majority of our citizens do not realize that Penticton is one of the few cities in British Columbia that can pride itself on the ownership of a modern sewage treatment plant. Knowing this, it makes you more familiar with its function.

Without giving it a thought, most people empty the dishwasher down the sink, drain their bathtubs and flush toilets, only concerned that it runs away. Where does it go, what happens to it when it gets to the plant, is to most of them a puzzle. Let us, therefore, as citizens and taxpayers, take a little more interest in an investment that pays dividends with a cleaner and healthier city. We talk a lot about our beautiful beaches and peaches, which are and will be a steady attraction to visitors and tourists alike. So how about putting in a word about your sewage treatment plant. Point it out with pride to visiting friends and to tourists as an added attraction, of which you do not have to be ashamed. Visitors are always welcome at the plant. Wednesday afternoon being preferred.

COMPACT AND EFFICIENT
The Penticton sewage treatment plant, located outside the west

boundary of Queen's Park, was built in 1947 and put into operation in February, 1948. The writer had the opportunity of seeing construction of the plant from the start to the finish, before taking over as its operator. This plant is a "Chicago combination aerator-clarifier" sewage treatment plant, operating with the "activated sludge" process. It is very compact and has given efficient and satisfactory service, acknowledged by government health authorities.

Sewage is the waste of human existence, a combination of liquid and solid body wastes, water used in households and, to a small extent in our city, industrial wastes. Average sewage is usually at least 99.95 percent water by weight and only .05 percent solids. If not properly treated, the small amount of solids will do great damage. Sewage contains large numbers of bacteria, of which many are of the disease-producing type. If not treated in a short time, sewage will decompose and become a menace to public health. If it is discharged in its raw form into a stream or body of water the water would be so polluted, that fish would not be able to live. Livestock, taking water from such a polluted stream, would also be affected.

Our sewage treatment plant removes this objectionable material from the sewage, as it passes through it. The final product, a pure effluent, is discharged into Okanagan River, odorless and free of disease-producing bacteria.

Let us follow the sewage and make an imaginary trip to the plant and see what happens when it arrives there.

COMPLICATED PROCESS

Raw sewage, by the time it reaches the plant, is grey in color, looking more or less like dishwater. It is made up of floating or semi-floating organic and inorganic material. It must now be prepared so that the mechanical equipment of the plant can handle it. For this purpose, a comminutor has been installed. As the sewage passes through it, all large pieces are chopped up until they are small enough so as not to clog the pumps and pipes. The sewage is now pumped to the primary or settling tanks. Here the organic matter settles to the bottom of the tank to form the primary sludge. All floating material collects on one end of the tank and is skimmed off, to be pumped eventually to the digester. The liquid sewage flows over the overflow weirs to the aeration tanks. The primary sludge is a thick, foul smelling mess and is pumped, daily, to the digester. The primary tanks are equipped with mechanical sludge collectors which scrape the sludge into sumps, from where it is easily removed.

The primary effluent, containing all the impurities of raw sewage with only the larger solids removed, is purified in the aeration tanks. Here the activated sludge process goes into action. When an aeration tank is filled with primary effluent and aerated, it will have a disagreeable odor and a grey color. If aerated for a few days, it will lose its odor and grey color and will be of a brownish tinge. A sample of sewage, which has been aerated for several days, placed in a glass cylinder, will show brownish flocs forming, which settle to the bottom, leaving a clear colorless water on top. Seen through a microscope, the flocs contain hundreds of bacteria and other forms of organisms. This brown floc is called "activated sludge". The liquid in a tank where activated sludge is fully developed, has a brown color and a slight earthy odor. The mixture of the activated sludge and the primary effluent in the aerator is called "mixed liquor".

OXYGEN FACTOR

In the Penticton plant a complete activated sludge process is carried on in the "Chicago" combination aerator-clarifier. When the aerator tank is filled and the motor started, the settled sewage is pumped up the draft tube by the aerator propeller and is discharged from the diffuser cone on to the splash plate. Oxygen is absorbed from the air by the sewage as it is discharged from the cone, as it hits the splash plate, each time it passes over one of the jumps on the splash plate and flows into the tank. During aeration time the solids of the settled sewage builds up, due to bacterial growth, to form activated sludge.

When primary effluent flows into the aerator it mixes with the mixed liquor and is continuously circulated and aerated by the aerator. Sewage is continuously flowing into the aerator and the mixed liquor flows continuously into the clarifier compartment of the aerator. In this section the liquor is quiet and settling takes place the same as it does in a glass cylinder. The activated sludge settles to the bottom of the clarifier compartment and is drawn back into the draft tube through the annular opening between the bottom hopper and the draft tube. The clear effluent remaining on top of the clarifier compartment flows over the effluent weir (built inside of the compartment) and flows out through the discharge pipe into a channel. The effluent passes a 6" Parshall Flume, which registers the flow on the flow meter, before entering the chlorine contact tank. Here the final effluent is chlorinated and flows then to the river. Tests are made periodically by the local health inspector, F. Hartigan, to determine the purity of this effluent. Samples are also taken above and below the outflow pipe at the river and sent to a government laboratory for bacteria tests. All samples to date have been found very satisfactory.

GAS DANGEROUS

The accumulated primary sludge and the scum off the tanks is pumped twice daily to the digester. This is a large round tank about 40 feet in diameter, similar to a septic tank. The solids of the primary sludge which are pumped into the digester, separate and settle on the bottom. At the start, the digester is filled to the top with raw sewage and water. The clear liquid that forms on top will overflow when primary sludge is pumped into the tank. This is called supernatant liquid. On top of the digester is a gas chamber, where sewer gas accumulates. This gas is utilized in the plant for different uses. A gas boiler using this gas heats water to heat the building and also the digester through coils installed inside around the lower part of it. An electric circulating pump circulates hot water through the coils and back to the boiler. To speed bacterial action, heat is necessary. After a length of time, depending on the temperature of the contents in the digester, the fully digested sludge accumulated on the bottom, has to be drawn to the drying beds. It is coal black in color, has a slight earthy odor and when dry is sold to some of our local orchardists as humus and soil builder.

The gas accumulated in the digester (sewer gas) is dangerous. It will cause death by asphyxiation and will explode if ignited.

The Penticton sewage treatment plant maintains a small scale laboratory needed for tests, necessary for the efficient operation of a plant of this type. A laboratory still, operated with sewer gas, produces distilled water for laboratory work and is used in all the city departments for truck batteries. The surplus is sold to local merchants.

An automatic recording rain gauge, believed to be the only one in the interior of British Columbia, was installed last fall. It was supplied by the Department of Transport at the suggestion of the City Engineer, P. G. W. Walker. Records from this rain gauge will be of much use in economical design of the city's storm sewer requirements. Records of low and high temperatures and weather conditions are kept.

Operating costs of the plant are kept down by one-man operation made possible through automatic equipment.

Your sewage treatment plant is there for your convenience. Use the facilities at your disposal carefully. For the safety of your sewage treatment plant and its operating staff, please be careful not to let any of the following pass down your sewer.

1. Flammable liquids such as gas, oil, kerosene, cleaning fluid, etc.
2. Rags and cloth materials.
3. Acids.
4. Metallic or glass objects.
5. Dead animals.

If you allow any of the above to go down the sewer, it may result in a serious breakdown or explosion in the plant.

Counting Calories May Save Your Life

Dr. Louis I. Dublin, vice-president and statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, New York, finds convincing evidence of the benefits of reducing in a recent statistical study of some 50,000 men and women policy holders who have been charged extra premiums because they are overweight.

These overweight men and women, reports Dr. Dublin in a recent issue of Health magazine, studied over a period of 25 years, had a mortality rate which was 50 percent higher than that among standard insurance risks. Their death rates were particularly high from conditions of the heart, blood vessels, and kidneys, and from diabetes and diseases of the liver and gall bladder.

Out of the company's general experience with overweight, Dr. Dublin made a separate study of those individuals who, on a later application for insurance, showed a reduction in weight sufficient to qualify them either for a standard insurance or a lower rating than they had originally been given.

This provided evidence of the actual benefits of reducing. "For both among men and women the death rate after weight reduction was substantially less than that recorded for all the overweight people studied," Dr. Dublin states. "Among the men the reduction was of the order of one-fifth and among women, about one-third. To my knowledge, this is the best long range evidence available that weight reduction pays. Getting rid of excess pounds, in a sensible manner and keeping it off will make a person look better and feel better, and it is also likely to help him live a longer and happier life."

THE FUTURE OF SCOUTING

Canadian Scouting is not reaching as many boys as it should. There is a definite need for expansion if there are to be sufficient men of tomorrow who will be prepared to give intelligent leadership to the community. Scouting is doing much with very little money. It cannot extend its usefulness to more young Canadians without increased facilities.

INVEST IN CANADA'S FUTURE

The dollars you contribute to the Boy Scouts will be used to foster the ideals, develop the influences, and extend the work of Scouting among the boys of Canada.

THEY'RE DOING THEIR PART

Every Canadian Wolf Cub, Boy Scout, Rover Scout and leader earns the money for his own uniform, books, badges, camp fees and other expenses. You are asked to provide funds for administration of the Boy Scouts' Association to enable it to render greater services to the youth of Canada. Included will be improved leadership training facilities, more and better campsites, additional equipment for training centres, increased field headquarters staffs who train and assist Canada's 10,000 volunteer leaders and 25,000 members of Councils and Committees.

EVERY DOLLAR COUNTS

Your contribution — in dollars — or effort — today, is a very real investment in your neighbors and, indeed, in the whole community of tomorrow. This is a time of danger — of crisis — but it is a time of faith and hope. One of our greatest hopes lies in the type of youth we are developing. Scouting is making an ever-increasing contribution to this end.

SCOUTING'S AIM

It is the expressed intention of the Canadian Boy Scout Association "to provide the OPPORTUNITY for every Canadian boy who so desires, to join the Scout Movement."

KEEPING THE CONVALESCENT OCCUPIED

A child who is convalescing from an illness needs plenty of entertainment and mother often finds it a problem to keep the small hands and mind occupied. If the child is old enough, threading beads, learning to knit or sew with a large needle and bright-colored wools, will often keep a little girl busy, while a boy may prefer paper and crayons with which to exercise his artistic talents.

Some of the simple and not too highly priced handcraft outfits, such as a miniature weaving set, will prove entertaining to a youngster who enjoys making things. Old magazines and catalogues, and a pair of round tipped scissors usually provide hours of entertainment in cutting out "dolls". A few crumbs sprinkled on the window-sill will often bring feathered visitors who will prove amusing to the small, invalid.

In Hawaii only the climate and the scenery are native. The Hawaiians themselves are immigrants.

Growers Concerned Over Lack Of Snow In Water Basins This Winter

Chilliwack Builds Its Arena The Hard Way Report Reveals

CHILLIWACK — Chilliwack Recreation Center association, sole aim of which is completion of the city's arena building, is still $80,000 from its minimum goal and $120,000 short of its final objective of providing the district with an ice arena.

These estimates, given at the association's annual meeting recently, were accompanied by reports of dedicated effort by a small group of arena enthusiasts during the last year.

Figures presented indicated that it will require some $80,000 to complete the unfinished building to a point where it could be used for community activities other than ice skating. An additional $40,000 will be required to equip it with artificial ice.

The fact that these future requirements are smaller than they were a year ago reflects the enthusiasm and activity of the arena association during the last 12 months; the meeting was told.

MANY DONATIONS — Donations during the year amounted to $6,829 plus a large amount of volunteer labor. The framework was roofed with wood lamination and aluminum sheeting at a cost of $9,400.

More than 300 men had worked on the 30 by 40 foot elevation to nail some 50 miles of 2x4's and 2x3's lumber to the roof.

To keep the workers going strong, women from the member organizations and many others had served coffee, meals and refreshments afternoon and evening for some weeks. Wednesday luncheons were also served.

Financial statement shows that a total of over $118,000 has been spent on the structure so far. If a similar amount of work were to be done at today's prices the value of the building would probably be closer to $150,000. Cost of the steel trusses for the roof structure had increased in value by $11,000 one year after its erection in 1949 according to the steel company.

Donations of over $75,000 have now been made to finance the unfinished structure at the fair grounds. In addition to this some $37,000 are outstanding in debentures. Nearly $12,000 was paid by city and municipality to complete payment of roof steel.

While growers are not unduly alarmed at present over the lack of snow in the water basins for irrigation purposes this summer, the snow survey bulletin issued by the provincial water rights branch indicates a great deal of snow will have to fall between now and the end of the month if reserves are to be built up.

The water content of the snow pack in the Okanagan-Similkameen area is well below normal for the time of the year. Average snow water content for the whole area is approximately 80 percent of normal but the East Okanagan is considerably less with McCulloch and Postill Lake snow courses reporting water contents 58 percent of normal.

NO FALL RAIN

Water rights branch engineers point out the soil mantle is extremely dry due to the lack of late summer and fall rain and will require considerable priming before the runoff can begin. Snow depth at McCulloch on February 1 was 17.6 inches with a water content of 3.1 inches. This compares with a water content of 7.1 and 4.8 in 1952 and 1951 respectively. Average water content over a 16-year period has been 5.1 inches. Postill Lake region has a depth of 19. inches and a water content of 3.8. This is far below the water content average of seven inches.

Water rights engineers are predicting a below-normal runoff in these two areas unless above-normal precipitation occurs between now and the end of the month. Normally, heavy snow can be expected on the higher levels during February.

TEMPERATURES ABOVE NORMAL

In summary, the report says: "The winter to date in British Columbia has been marked by above-normal temperatures, below-normal precipitation during November and December and generally record or near record precipitation during January. In most areas the snow accumulation would probably have been well below normal had it not been for the excess precipitation during the past month."

With the exception of Okanagan-Similkameen and Skagit regions, above-average summer runoff can be anticipated, providing normal temperature and precipitation prevail until and during the runoff period, the report states.

Average water content of the snow pack in the Columbia River basin is 104 percent of normal; Kootenay River, 99 percent; Okanagan-Similkameen, 82 percent; Fraser and North Thompson, 82 percent; Skagit, 82 percent, and coastal 130 percent. Excess precipitation during January is given as the reason for the anticipated heavy runoff in Columbia, Kootenay, Fraser and lower coastal areas.

CBC To Open Seven Cities In B.C. For Television Stations

KELOWNA — Seven B.C. centres are to be opened by Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for private television stations.

CBC governors will consider applications for private licences in such centres as Victoria, Prince Rupert, Prince George, Dawson Creek, Kelowna, Nelson and Kamloops.

Department of Transport memorandum also said Alberta and Saskatchewan are being opened to private stations.

The B.C. centres listed were described as merely a rough guide and naming them does not shut out possibility of application from other centres.

CBC's newest television move is designed to fill the gap in the west between Winnipeg and Vancouver, the more lucrative centres which have been reserved for CBC itself. More than 50 other centres across Canada have also been opened for private applications, but the major points still are reserved for CBC. Effective date for applications is March 20.

Tourists anxious to view Niagara Falls spend an estimated $21,000,000 annually.

Rev. H. D. Francis Social Credit Party Organizer For Wide Area

Several events the past week forecast an immediate speeding up in the tempo of Interior politics.

From Okanagan-Revelstoke federal Social Credit president E. C. LeCours came the news that Rev. Harry Francis of Revelstoke has been appointed a full time party organizer operating in the Mainline, Okanagan, Boundary and Kootenays districts. Mr. Francis, it will be recalled, resigned his Similkameen seat in the legislature to make way for Finance Minister Einar Gunnerson. He subsequently transferred to a new pastoral field in Revelstoke, but it is understood that he will temporarily at all events, give up his clerical duties in favor of political campaigning.

Then B.C. Pro-Con leader Deane Finlayson announced in Vernon last week that, with both federal and provincial elections just around the corner, his party was fielding full-time organizers immediately. Provincially, the Liberal party will presumably lay the foundations of their election campaign this week. The North Okanagan group's annual meeting was held last Thursday.

CCF planning seems to be strictly under cover, with no statements available from local party leaders. However, the Socials are planning to follow up their successes at Enderby last week; they have called a mammoth rally, to be held in the logging community, for early March, and at that time they will work out their federal campaign details.

There is still no indication from CCF federal member O. L. Jones as to which of the new ridings he intends to contest. Okanagan-Revelstoke or Okanagan-Boundary. He

BEAVERS AND THEIR YOUNG

Carrying young, to and fro, clinging to their backs, is not only the habit of the opossum and certain water-fowl, for the beaver has also been observed swimming with a litter aboard. It should be said, however, that the usual manner employed by the beaver to transfer helpless young from place to place until able to care for themselves is one at a time, held beneath the chin with both arms, in the same way that mud and muck is conveyed from the bottom of the pond.

Kelowna School Costs Increased

KELOWNA — The City of Kelowna is faced with an increase of $33,490 as its share of operating schools in Kelowna School District No. 23.

This was learned from a well-informed source after school trustees ratified the 1953 budget which was presented to City Council on Monday.

Estimated cost for operating the schools for the next 12 months before government grants, etc., are deducted is $781,110, an increase of $50,800 over last year. Total net expenditure for the district is $553,720 of which Kelowna pays 50.81 per cent. City taxpayers will pay $280,454 while the municipalities of Glenora and Peachland will pay $20,514 and $11,186 respectively. The rural portion of School District No. 23 will pay $241,566, or 43.44 per cent.

GROUP CAPTAIN R. O. SHAW, C.D.
... to speak at reunion

Ex-Air Force Personnel To Meet At Reunion In Kelowna This Week-End

A number of Penticton men, former members of the RCAF, are expected to attend the RCAF reunion to be held in Kelowna Saturday evening in the Kelowna Legion Hall.

Guest speaker will be Group Captain R. O. Shaw, C.D. who will speak on "Your Royal Canadian Air Force of Today".

Group Captain Shaw joined the service in 1938 after graduating from the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ontario. During the early part of the war he served as a pilot with various Coastal Command Squadrons on the East coast of Canada, taking over command of 119 Bomber Reconnaissance Squadron at Sydney, Nova Scotia in 1942. He proceeded overseas in 1944 and was attached to 16 Group, Royal Air Force Coastal Command in England.

Upon the cessation of hostilities, Group Captain Shaw attended the RCAF Staff College in Toronto, Ontario, and subsequently took over command of RCAF Station, Greenwood, Nova Scotia. Upon arrival on the west coast, one year ago, Group Captain Shaw was appointed to the position of Senior Air Staff Officer at 12 Air Defence Group Headquarters, Vancouver, B.C.

The RCAF reunion is the result of the efforts of five Okanagan men: W. Helmsing and L. Smith of Vernon, H. C. Guest and W. C. Brodie of Kelowna and W. P. Suter of Penticton. The reunion is open to all ex RCAF personnel who wish to attend and tickets may be obtained from any of the executive as listed above. Representatives will be in attendance from Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Armstrong, Salmon Arm, Summerland, Magna Bay and other Okanagan Valley points.

Bruce Howard, of Penticton, is handling arrangements for the reunion locally and all persons who plan to attend are asked to contact M. Howard tomorrow in order that catering arrangements can be made. Tickets are $2.50 per person. The senior ex RCAF officer attending will be Group Captain E. C. Tennant, of Penticton. Two pioneers of aviation will also be in attendance; Major Denison of Vernon, and Warrant Officer Hylburn C.D., of Kelowna, both ex-members of the Royal Flying Corps.

Conduct Tests For Air Purification In Fruit Storages

OTTAWA — Most fruit growers have heard claims made about air purification for apple storages. The process of "so-called" air purification refers to removal of various extraneous gases from the atmosphere by absorbing them on activated carbon.

In fruit storages various gases produced by fruits are continually being liberated to the atmosphere. These gases include ethylene, acetaldehyde, ethyl alcohol, and various aromatic compounds which are normally associated with the ripening of fruit. Some are known and others are suspected of stimulating the ripening of fruit exposed to them. It has been proved that certain gases produced by apples cause a killing of the skin described as skin scald.

Experiments conducted in the Eastern United States seem to show a decrease in rate of softening and a corresponding increase in length of storage life for apples held under carbon air purification

The older person who finds it difficult to eat harder foods because of dental troubles may find the meat grinder a good friend. By cutting the meat fibres in this way, less chewing is required and even the tougher cuts are more easily digested.

As compared with ordinary air storage, significant reductions in skin scald have also been reported, but not of comparable magnitude to that obtained with the use of mineral oil wraps.

On the other hand, experiments on air purification with a wide range of apple varieties conducted by the Summerland Experimental Station and other Western Experiment Stations have not demonstrated any superiority in firmness, keeping life or scald control either during or after cold storage with treated, as compared with check fruit. Expenditure for the installation of commercial air purification equipment is therefore not recommended, says D. V. Fisher of the Summerland Station. Further experiments are in progress in an attempt to find why air purification works in some cases but not in others.

ASKS EXTRA IRRIGATION

The irrigation commission will be asked to rule on a request for extra irrigation services made to council this week by C. G. Phipps of Skaha Lake.

LIGHTING AND ENLIGHTENMENT

Many older school buildings have poorly lighted classrooms, a condition which may have a harmful effect upon the pupils' eyes. If the rooms are unavoidably dim, light may be slightly increased by using light-colored tinting on the walls and painted areas, taking care to eliminate glare from blackboards and other shiny surfaces. Both

Industrial Skin Disease Factors

"Industrial dermatitis" is what the doctors call it; but in words of one syllable this simply means skin troubles which break out because of the kind of work a man or woman does. The "Health at Work" column of a recent issue of Health magazine reports some interesting facts from the department of national health and welfare on this question.

Blond people are usually more susceptible to skin irritations than are brunettes, and hairy skins are more likely to develop trouble than hairless ones.

Persons with thick, oily skin are less apt to develop dermatitis (inflammation of the skin) from soaps and other solvents than are those with thin, dry skin; but on the other hand, oily skinned individuals are more prone to develop acne like infections from contact with grease and oil.

Existing skin diseases such as athlete's foot and acne appear to predispose the worker to dermatitis from many industrial materials.

Younger people and new workers are more often affected with acute industrial dermatitis than older, experienced employees; and, of course, the reason may be carelessness or lack of toughening to the substance.

A clean, well-ventilated working environment is essential to reduce the incidence of dermatitis, but personal cleanliness is of equal importance. Unclean clothing may also cause dermatitis in other members of the family or in laundry workers who come in contact with them.

Diet, too, may be a predisposing factor to skin troubles, since dietary deficiencies may bring about a lowering of the skin's resistance to irritation and infection. There is not yet sufficient evidence, but it is thought that acidity of the perspiration (stemming from diet) affects an individual's susceptibility to certain irritants.

While many people do not have good health, through no fault of their own; there are many more who could be much healthier than they are if they would follow the counsel of modern medical scientists in regard to general rules for good health through diet, exercise and the avoidance of such dangerous practices as overeating, exposure to contagion and fatigue.
